WE NOMINATE

Erwin Panofsky, one of the great art historians of this or any other century, who over the weekend was among the handful of scholars and teachers honored by The White House for "their exceptional successes in enriching the lives of young people through an understanding of the visual arts." As the nation's capital observed the 25th anniversary of the opening of the National Gallery of Art and relished an exhibition that drew yips of reverence from the critics, Panofsky, about-to-be 74, and 25 colleagues from across the country received the first awards ever given by the Federal Government for distinguished achievement in the entwined fields of art and education.

It was in the mid-1950's, 20 years after he had turned his back on Nazi Germany, that Panofsky brought forth an unusual major work, "Meaning in the Visual Arts," which has not only served 1,000's as an introduction to the study of art but has also given specialists insights into aspects of art and life in the Middle Ages and Renaissance. Appended to this volume is a tightly written, stimulating Epilogue, "Three Decades of Art History in the United States," an essay of importance to those interested in how Princetonians helped establish the discipline of art history through their interests in theology and philosophy, literature, architecture, or "just collecting."

A devoted Princeton resident since 1934, and invited in 1935 to join the then newly constituted humanistic faculty of The Institute for Advanced Study, Panofsky looks back upon his early years in America with an understandable nostalgia. "Bewildered, electrified and elated," he was amazed that a refugee art historian "could order a book at the New York Public Library without being introduced by an embassy or vouched for by two responsible citizens; that libraries were open in the evenings, some as long as until midnight; and that everybody seemed actually eager to make material accessible to him."

Panofsky, who first came to the United States in 1931 upon the invitation of New York University, can now recall with an Americanized twist of humor the grim spring of 1933 when the Nazis ousted all Jewish officials. He was spending one of his alternate terms at N.Y.U. and his family was at the University of Hamburg where he had taught since 1921. He remembers receiving the long cable in German, informing him of his dismissal as professor and Dean of the Faculty of Philosophy — but carefully and colorfully sealed with a strip of green paper bearing the inscription, "Cordial Easter Greetings, Western Union."

The father of twin sons, one a brilliant physicist and the other an earth scientist, who between them accumulated most of the academic honors conferred upon the Princeton Class of 1938, Panofsky, upon establishing his home here initially held concurrent lectureships at Princeton and N.Y.U. He has regularly served the former as Visiting Lecturer and this year is also Visiting Senior Fellow of the Council of the Humanities. His publications, notably "The Life and Art of Albrecht Durer" and "Studies in Iconology," are known the world over and his honors range from a collection of honorary degrees to distinguished professorships on both sides of the Atlantic.

For insisting, long before "the two cultures" became fashionable, that the humanities do not conflict with, but complement, the sciences; for looking upon teaching as "the joyful and instructive experience which comes from a common venture into the unexplored;" for meriting an honor which will come to few; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee as

PANEL TO STUDY STUDIES

On School Merger. Common sense flew out the window this week as the school boards wrestled with political problems.

The Borough board announced at the tag end of Monday's meeting that a five-man panel has been appointed to study the studies on Borough and Township Schools. The panel will have the joint school board study ("Blue Book"), the Bailey Report, the Borough Citizens' Advisory Committee Report (filed last week) and the research for Township Citizens' Advisory Committee Report on a Township high school (due May 15) to work with.

Panel members are Lester V. Chandler, chairman; Stanley C. Smoyer and Simon Marcson of the Township; the Rev. Dr. Robert Spears and E. Alden Dunham of the Borough. Their report is due on May 1.

"Members of both boards believe," the announcement states, "that attitudes and opinions have shifted considerably since the referendum last October, to the point where they find it necessary to look once more at the details of the merger question.

FULL HOUSE: The nine Root children hold nine puppies born on St. Patrick's Day to their English setter, Penny. From left, with the puppies they intend to keep, are (front row) Peter, 4 months; Patrick, 5; Michael, 4; Mary, 2; Andy, 1, and Penny; (back row) Susan 7; Margie, 8; Jimmy 10; and Tommy, 9, children of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Root of Aquedect Road. (Staff Photo)

"The special panel of citizens will be composed of two members from each municipality chosen by their respective boards. The chairman is agreed upon by both boards. All members are known to be knowledgeable concerning the merger question.

"The panel will meet separately with each board to determine the specific attitudes and concerns in each municipality and to find areas of agreement on merger. The boards believe that this device will speed up the necessary conversation between the Borough and Township."

Consolidation a Factor. The two school boards have been racked—and in the Borough nearly wrecked—by the political pressures of Borough-Township municipal consolidation.

Pro-consolidation forces consider merger of the two school systems a major wedge in cracking opposition to uniting the two Princetons. Hard-liners in the Borough yielded a foot of ground for the first time last week when the Serve Our Schools committee endorsed a Borough-Township high school as set forth in the Miller Plan.

The two boards, composed of dedicated, idealistic men and women with an astonishing variety of knowledge and talent, have worked for three years in answer to pro-consolidation pressure.

In an era of dazzling advances in educational theory and techniques, they have been held back by the lack of a commonly-operated school system, and by their time-consuming role as the battle ground for consolidation. The school curriculums have marked time, with a break-through here and there.

Possible Solution Ignored. The two school boards offered a solution in 1965 that was ignored. In the Report on the Joint Committee on Municipal Operations they stated:

"The possibility of municipal consolidation which, of course, would include the public schools, was considered by the Boards of Education. They concluded that they would favor this course of action if existing state legislation could be amended to remove the tax inequity that would result if consolidation under the present law were effected. . . ."

No committee of Princeton lawyers has been appointed to work out the solution suggested by the school boards.

Neither Borough Council nor Township Committee have acted. The Citizens Committee for Borough Schools, headed by Morten Good and H. Philip Miois; the Borough Serve Our Schools Committee, led by Orren Jack Turner; the now-dormant Borough-Township citizens committee which sprang up last October under the leadership of George Adriance to support the school merger referendum, have turned neither their minds nor their funds to the School boards' suggestion.

The Borough board asked its attorney last November to work out a school merger plan that would be equitable to both interests. The Miller plan was explored by the Borough Citizens' Advisory Committee, headed by Bryan Moore and Mrs. Bonnie Wagner. It was measured against school merger plans throughout New Jersey and in other states according to Mrs. J. Stuart Hunter, a committee member.

Counter Offer Made. This plan, approved by the Borough Board at a special meeting Monday a week ago, was presented to the Township board the following evening in executive session.

The Township board countered with the suggestion of a five-man mediation panel. To the agreed-upon statement released by the two boards, mem-tion of the Miller plan was deleted.

The panel study effectively removes any chance of a school merger vote this spring, no matter what the merger terms may be. The panel report is due May 1. Primaries are set for June 7, and the law requires that no side election may be held within 20 days before or after the primaries. Accordingly, belief is that a merger vote will be held in late September or early October.

Meanwhile, momentum steps up in the Township. The board will receive its citizens' report on May 1-5. On June 1, the board sub-committee will report on negotiations with the owners of the Cherry Hill Road site it has selected for a Township high school, or upon the necessary condemnation procedures.

The Board has a low-keyed public relations program in effect with Township parents through coffee meetings and school gatherings. It is laying the groundwork for a public vote on multi-million dollar high school.

Pupil Shortage? The Borough's concern, as the recent Citizens' Advisory Committee projections bear out, is that it may not have enough pupils to run an effective high school without the Township.

Eight years from now, in 1974-75, the Borough will have 341 students in the high school. Rocky Hill will send 26, Plainsboro 36, St. Paul's School 114, and West Windsor 488. This is a total of 1,005, which school authorities state is below the level of efficient operation.

The Township in eight years will have 2,059 high school age students. Montgomery Township, which the Borough is trying to drop, will have 974.

On Monday evening, the Borough PTA sponsored a panel discussion of the Citizens Committee report. Panelists included Alva Reddig, Bryan Moore, Mrs. J. Stuart Hunter and Mrs. Paul Ashton.

Forty-three residents turned out with criticisms and questions, and the committee consulted the Township in its study? What about the academic future of Borough schools? The Miller Plan is an administrative monstrosity. Why hang on to West Windsor, way over there on U.S. 1? The report is weasel-worded.

More Questions. The board, which had joined the advisory committee in the three months' study, had more to take on Tuesday when it announced the panel.

"When were these men selected?" asked Bryan Moore, co-chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee. "You have just received our report last week. It seems that you are moving very fast.

"What charge is this panel under? None of this has been done at open meetings. Are the Citizens Advisory Committee recommendations going to be among the charges to this committee?"

Dr. Harvey Rothberg of the board told Mr. Moore that the panel is charged to study each side and "come up with a viable proposal."

This is a variation of the Board's often-repeated expression of hope. Common questions that the school boards, charged with responsibility for education, can consent to be a political tool much longer.

LICENSE LOST 90 DAYS

For Reckless Driving. Robert G. Maxwell, 18, 219 Edgerstoune Road, had his license revoked for 90 days Monday by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tores Jr. for reckless driving. In addition he was fined $15.

Mr. Maxwell was followed by Lt. Francis Maguire and a state trooper in an unmarked car in January at 7:15 in the morning. The officers testified that the defendant went through numerous borough stop signs and was traveling at a high rate of speed over icy streets. He pleaded guilty.

Fined $15 each were Marc R. Soldavin, 17, of Skillman, who was charged with driving with one headlight missing, and Thomas M. Borrett, 18, West Long Drive, Lawrenceville, careless driving. The latter's license was revoked for 30 days.

Rodger T. Baker of the Graduate College paid $10 for driving with expired plates.

200 AT FIRST FORUM

On Youth Activities. An estimated 200 parents of ninth grade students attended the first Rumor Forum held on Monday evening at Princeton High School.

Parents because so engrossed in discussion with panelists that the high school principal, Kenneth Michael, had to sound the class bell at 10:15 p.m. to bring the forum to a close. In response to a question by Dr. Paul R. Chesebro, Hun School headmaster serving as moderator of one of the panels, half of the parents indicated their interest in further discussions.

Many of the parents had read in advance the listing of panelists drawn from Princeton's roster of psychiatrists, police, youth and social workers, and pharmacists and asked where a specific individual would be speaking. The forum was divided into four panel-discussion groups held in the school auditorium, cafeteria, social room and home economics room.

"We found," reports Mrs. H. A. Leverenz of the Parents' Committee on Social Concerns, forum sponsors, "that the discussions in the various rooms were quite different. Interest was so high that we expect some of the parents will attend the next forums just to hear what some of the other panelists have to say."

Topics spanned the whole social picture of teenage activities in Princeton — pep pills, drinking, cruising in cars, party crashing — and included local laws, police procedures, druggists' self-imposed rules, activities of youth and social workers, and suggestions for parents.

The next forum will be held at 8 p.m. this Monday. Panelists will include Dr. Van Ferney, Pharmacist Everett Campbell, Capt. Gerald Dollar of State Police, Juvenile Officer Walter Emann, Rogers Carrington, Dr. Nathaniel Boonia, Juvenile Office Ralph Proccacino, Miss Marion Stano of Family Service, Dr. Granville Jones, Pharmacist Morris Forer, Township Sgt. Fred Porter, Mrs. Pat Criscitiello, Dr. Henry Murphree, Pharmacist Henry deGeorge, Police Lt. Frank Maguire and Mrs. Ruth Lotz.

Moderators will be Raymond Male, Jack Rimalover, John Valentine and the Rev. Walter Wagoner.

Monday's forum is planned for parents of ninth graders in the Princeton schools, although parents may attend any session. A third forum, for parents of 11th & 12th grade students, will be held on April 4. Members of the Parents' Committee on Social Concerns are representatives of PTA's at Princeton High, Princeton Day, Hun and Stuart Country Day Schools.

"Well, I suppose I can squeeze you in between Heart, Kidneys and Multiple Sclerosis, but you're the last disease I'll do this year!"

TEENS NAME CHAIRMEN

For Fund Projects. Princeton's young people are rallying to raise funds towards their hoped-for student lounge. A list of 22 projects is now being circulated at Princeton High School, Princeton Day School, Stuart Country Day and Hun School to organize volunteers.

Tom Gamon is chairman of the car wash project, scheduled for April 2 and 16 at the Borough Garage on Harrison Street. Posy Gault and Peter Harsanyi are publicity chairmen.

Betsy Hartman and Bebe Ramus are in charge of the first balloon sale, to be held on April 9 at the Princeton-Rider baseball game at Clarke Field and at the boat races on Lake Carnegie.

A series of informational dinners for parents and interested adults is being planned under the chairmanship of Linda Hart, assisted by Donna Patzold, Pat Rogers and Vicky Webb.

BOROUGH WINS

In LaPlaca Appeal. Charles LaPlaca will have to be content with building two-family houses on his Harrison Street property instead of the 40 apartment units he had hoped to build.

The Appellate Division of the Superior Court decided unanimously last week in favor of the Borough in the LaPlaca case.

It all started in 1964, when Mr. LaPlaca asked the Zoning Board for a variance to build the 40 apartments on his three-acre Harrison Street plot. The land is zoned for single or two-family dwellings and apartments are not permitted use. However, variances had already been granted for construction of public housing on adjoining land, also Mr. LaPlaca's.

The Zoning Board gave Mr. LaPlaca his variance. But Borough Council, on June 4, 1964, said "no." Mr. LaPlaca took his case to court and last May, Superior Court Judge George H. Barlow decided in his favor, and said there were not enough facts in the record to justify Council's refusal.

Capricious? Judge Barlow said that the Council's refusal was "arbitrary, capricious and unreasonable" and added that, while Mayor and Council had the right to reach conclusions different from those of the Zoning Board, they could do so only on the basis of a factual record.

Borough officials were disturbed at the decision because of the precedent involved. Mayor Henry S. Patterson, Borough Councilmen and attorney Hugh D. Wise, who handled the case for the Borough, were afraid the court's decision meant that the Borough must be an "adversary" in every zoning case, calling in expert witnesses, compiling legal evidence, and so on.

In explaining why it denied the Zoning Board's variance, Borough Council had said that "granting a variance for public, low-cost housing for the elderly on the adjacent property was based on public policy considerations not present in Mr. LaPlace's case and upon an appreciation of the relatively low-population and low-traffic factors inherent in such housing."

In effect, therefore, the court has upheld the right of Borough Council to exercise its independent judgement in evaluating the record made before the zoning Board.

WHO'S GARBAGE MAN?

Bids Tabled. The low bidder for the Township's municipal garbage contract will have to defend himself in a hearing next Monday night before Township Committee will accept his offer.

Julius Huntley, who is the present garbage collector, bid $10,300 — only $100 less than the second highest bidder, Stanley Sibert. But Township Administrator Joseph R. Nini told Committee that householders have complained about Mr. Huntley's performance. The collector has had mechanical problems with his trucks, Mr. Nini said, and personnel problems with employees who don't show up. His work has been good in the past, Mr. Nini said, and he has assured the administrator that he will clear up his problems.

According to the law, if Committee doesn't want the low bidder, it must hold a hearing and allow him to state his case before rejecting a decision against him. The third bidder, Princeton Disposal, was high with $10,800.

The 1966 Township budget, tabled to correct a technical flaw, was passed Monday night. Committeeman William Wilson pointed out that the municipal purposes part of the budget is the same as it was in 1961 and a penny less than it was four years ago.

Engineer Frank Quinby told Committee that he and Sgt. Jack Petrone on the Township police force, have worked out a program of safety on Lake Carnegie and the canal and were now figuring cost estimates. He said they would report soon to Committee and to Borough Council and the Joint Recreation Board.

More Pay. All Township patrolmen will receive a $250 annual raise, Committee, in adopting floor resolutions on salaries and job classifications, announced that the base rate for the starting patrolmen would be in the $5950 to $7250 range; sergeants, $7000 to lieutenants $8,700 and police chief, $10,300. These are bases from which increments and longevity pay are figured.

Special officers assigned to juvenile traffic duty will receive an additional $120 a year the first year, $240 the second year, $360 the third year. The Township will now pay 75% of health insurance and major medical coverage instead of 50% and hopes in 1967, to assume the full 100%.

Mayor Carl C. Schafer reported that Leonard Newton and the Rev. Arthur M. Byers, Township appointees to the Mercer County Community Action Council, had recommended formation of a joint Borough-Township committee to work with the Council. Federal funds will pay for 90% of any approved anti-poverty project. Mr. Newton and the Rev. Mr. Byers pointed out. The two Borough representatives joined in the report.

Louis Simonye was awarded the contract for realigning the "S" curve on Cherry Hill Road. His bid $17,655.25. Other bidders were Dayton Constructors with $18,400 and Castoro with $20,251.25.

"Pheasant Hill Road" was accepted into the Township's Road system. Its maiden name was "Honey Brook Lane." The change was requested by residents and approved by both Planning Board and Committee.

ZONING BACK AGAIN

Ordinance Amendment. The Township's revised zoning ordinance is back in the news again.

After months of back-and-forth, Township Committee and Planning Board have reached an agreement on the controversial height limitation and the revised revision will be introduced at a special meeting next Monday at 8 in Township Hall. A public hearing date will be set at that time.

Actually, the special meeting has been called, not so much for the zoning ordinance, as to introduce the ordinance

Helping Hand Needed

I've got my kite
By its sharpe ole tail.
Come on, Mr. March wind
And give her a sail!

Considerably warmer than normal so far, March hasn't brought its usual supply of gusty days, but that may change shortly. The showers predicted for Thursday are scheduled to be blown clear by winds originating as far away as the Rockies.

Pleasantly mild weather should remain in effect through Saturday. Wet weekends are often part of the spring picture, however, and chances are we won't get through Sunday without a few showers.

authorizing construction of parking yards and other poolside projects at Community Park. The Township wants to get things moving on the new parking area so that it will be finished when the pool is — probably around July 1.

The new Zoning revision establishes a height limit of 100 feet — that's the height the Planning Board has been pushing for — but sets up a special permit device for anything over 100 feet.

A builder, the University for example, would have to prove need, satisfy the Township on internal road circulation and parking facilities, prove that no nuisance factors are involved and show that the project conforms to the long-range Township Master Plan before he could get a special permit to go above 100 feet.

Also, projects will be referred to the Planning Board for review and report before they go to the Zoning Board.

Township Committeemen are said to be more or less unconcerned about height per se, because they believe that the ordinance has adequate controls; the need to provide parking, for one thing, and the 1,200-foot setback requirement for another. In addition, Committeemen do not believe that the University can erect many large buildings, simply from an economic point of view.

SCHOOL HEADS TO MEET

Student Lounge is Topic. The principals of Princeton secondary schools will meet at 10 a.m. this Friday at Princeton High School to investigate the need for a steering and advisory committee for the projected student lounge at Community Park.

Present will be Douglas O. McClure, Princeton Day School; Dr. Paul R. Chesebro, Hun School; Mother Joan Kirby, Stuart Country Day School; Kenneth Michael, Princeton High School R. Donald Barr, director, Borough-Township Joint Recreation Department, and Rogers Carrington, director of Youth Associates.

TENNIS ANYONE?

Pretty Brook Approved. Pretty Brook Tennis Club has been given a variance by the Township Zoning Board to build an indoor tennis court building. Board member James Campbell, a member of the club, abstained from the vote.

At the hearing, Bernard Peyton of Pretty Brook Road, protested the amount of traffic that would be generated by the new court, but when the Zoning Board learned that the court would hold only four players who would be playing for an hour and a half and that it would be open only during bad weather when nobody was on the outdoor courts, it brushed aside the traffic argument and granted the variance.

The Planning Board had suggested that the re-alignment of Alexander be re-realigned so that traffic could flow in one side to the new auto laundry and out the other. The new laundry will be built in the sharp elbow that was eliminated with the re-alignment. The Zoning Board tabled the request.

H. Gilbert Nicol, 106 Winant Road, was granted lot area, lot width and side yard variances to build to within 13 feet of his side line. He was also granted a variance for his parking facility as it now exists. The Board stipulated that he remove his tool shed and re-locate it at least 15 feet from the lot line.

POOL FEES AGAIN

PAHR, Mayors Confer. Princeton's two mayors and officials of the Princeton Association for Human Rights conferred last week on the revised fee schedule for the public swimming pool.

Borough Mayor Henry S Patterson, Township Mayor Carl C. Schafer and John Counts, George Geary, Mrs. Estelle Johnson and Seymour Alpert participated in the discussion. Leonard Di Donato, for the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club, was unable to be present.

PAHR representatives told the mayors they regarded the revised schedule as a "big improvement," 50 cents for children under 16 during the week 75 cents on weekends; $1 and $1.50 for adults; but that they would like to see an even smaller fee for even smaller children: 25 cents or lower for children under 12, possibly.

They suggested to the mayors that the season fee of $40 would be acceptable provided that no family ended up paying more than $40 beeause it could not afford to pay the whole fee all at once.

A punch-card system was suggested, so that members of a family could be given credit for daily admissions and then admitted free after the $40 top had been reached.

Under any fee system, PAHR pointed out, some families can would not be able to swim, and they asked that some way be found to include these families without an embarrassing "means" test.

Both mayors agreed that they do not want to see any Princeton resident denied use of the pool because of money. They pointed out that pool policy is the legal responsibility of the Joint Recreation Board, and they agreed to forward PAHR's suggestions to the Board for consideration.

WATERCOLORS ON VIEW

By Chen Chi. An exhibit of prints of watercolors by the Chinese artist Chen Chi will be on view through April at the Princeton Art Association, 14 Nassau.

The prints have been made from the artist's original watercolors, and they are signed and numbered. Chen also supervised the reproduction work in Switzerland. The prints are for sale at reasonable prices, according to Charles McVicker, program chairman for the Association.

Born in China, Chen Chi came to the United States by way of Hong Kong through the intervention of the State Department. He is a member of the American Water Color Society and is represented in the Grand Central Gallery, New York. A reception for him in Princeton will be held later in the spring.

HOW ABOUT SOME SHADE?

Tree Commission at Work. Members of the Borough's Shade Tree Commission are sketching out a tree-planting plan for Nassau Street.

The Commission, under the chairmanship of Richard Colman, has approved a landscape plan for the Palmer Square island submitted by Mrs. Bruce French, and has authorized her to buy for spring planting the four key trees.

In addition, the Commission has told Mrs. French and Donald Harney of the Borough's engineering department, to proceed with their plan to plant 20 Callery pear trees on the upper part of Witherspoon Street.

Mrs. Donald C. Stuart, a member of the Commission, is surveying Nassau Street's remaining trees as a preliminary step in the over-all plan. The Commission hopes to restore

A single human hair is quite artfully constructed. It tapers upward from its wide bulb and comes to a sharp point at its terminal. Its circumference may be round or more clearly oval, or the hair may be rather flat-sided. Which of these shapes it takes is important, for it governs the quality of its straightness or curliness - a curly hair is rather flat-sided; a straight hair is round.

Except for the fortunate few whose scalp hair assumes soft natural waves, women are generally unhappy about the contour of their hair and quite frequently about its natural color, too.

Today, women can change straight unmanageable hair to hair that has body and a soft wave. Today, women can change too curly hair to straight hair. And, today, women who are starting to grey can change their hair to the color it was ten years ago.

Whatever your hair problems, you can have them solved beautifully at TAVERN-WOOD BEAUTY MANOR, 69 Palmer Square West, or call 924-3883.

VISITS FORMOSA

Lawyer in Taipei, Dr. D. S. Chen, 179 Linden Lane, is now in Taipei, Formosa, at the invitation of the Nationalist government to attend the National Assembly of the Republic of China. The fourth plenary session opened on February 19 and will last until approximately April 1.

Dr. Chen, a lawyer who served for a time as president of the Bar Association of Shanghai, was the founder and for many years the chairman of the "Chinese Committee of Five Million Against the Admission of Red China to the United Nations. In his capacity as president of the organization, he contributed many articles to leading Chinese newspapers in New York City and in Taipei.

Upon his arrival in Formosa last month, he was received by President Chiang Kai-shek, who expressed his appreciation for the work done by Dr. Chen in behalf of the Nationalist government.

Dr. Chen moved to Princeton in 1956 when he retired in order to be near members of his family.

POSTAL RATES TO RISE

Starting Saturday, Increases in rates for money orders, insurance, registry, certified mail and C.O.D. packages will become effective Saturday.

The Post Office last year lost more than $60 million on these services. The rate increases should lessen the loss by $36 million. This is the first rate hike for insurance and certified mail since 1950. Fees for the other services were last raised in 1961.

The increases include:

Money Order Fees: Domestic and International money order fees will be increased by 5 cents.

Insurance Fees: The minimum fee bracket will be increased from $10 to $15 and the minimum fee will be 20 cents instead of 10 cents.

The revised insurance fees:

$0.01 — $15	20 cents
15.01 — 50	30 cents
50.01 — 100	40 cents
100.01 — 150	50 cents
150.01 — 200	60 cents

Registry Fees: The present 60 cents and 75 cents fees will be combined into a single fee at 75 cents for values up to $100. Registry fees for articles valued in excess of $100 will remain unchanged.

C.O.D. Fees: The present 40 cents and 50 cents fee brackets will be combined into one fee bracket at 60 cents for amounts up to $10. There will be no change in the fees covering items valued above $10.

Certified Mail: The fee will be increased 10 cents from the present 20 cents per item to 30 cents.

FAMILY PROGRAM SET

By Community Players. The Princeton Community Players Club will present three scenes from "Alice in Wonderland" as part of the Junior Museum 's family programs at the Borough Hall Auditorium on Sunday, April 3.

The three scenes are "The Mad Tea Party", "Mock Turtle Story" and "Lobster Quadrille". The actors participating are Joan Bramnick, Mock Turtle; Sylvia Fontjo, Griffin; Terry Jamieson, March Hare; Shirley Kauffman, Dormouse; Philip Paul, narrator; Deborah Savadge, Alice; and Donald Warnock, Mad Hatter.

Girl Scouts from all troops in the Princeton area will participate in an International Program and Tea Sunday at 2 in the Princeton Theological Seminary auditorium.

Representatives from each troop will present contributions to the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund. The fund benefits the Girls Scout International Exchange Program and aids scouts throughout the world. Baby caps and scarves woven by the scouts will be collected to be sent to Algerian children.

Cadette troops 7, 08 and 12 will serve refreshments. The table decorations will represent Peru, Sweden and the islands of the Caribbean. Parents are invited to attend.

Assisting the neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Robert Westover, are Sandy Seidlitz, Nancy Bates, Jenny Elden, Jane Bernhardt, Karen Gordon, Diane Westover, Catherine Gray, Natalie Johnson, Bambi Fiore, Dolores Boyd, Nancy Bowers, Martha Stair, Lenore Allen, Ellen Cooke, Debora Dabkowski, Karen Cunningham, Judy Leech, Francel Brodsky, Laurie Merrick, Linda Johnson, Jacqueline Broadwater, Mindy Jones and Barbara Reeder.

PUBLIC INVITED

To Forum on N. J. Education. The public is invited to attend the forum on higher education in New Jersey to be held next Wednesday, March 30, at 8:15 p.m. in Community Park School under the sponsorship of the Princeton branch, American Association of University Women.

Three speakers will participate. They are Henry Chauncey, Mason Gross and Barry Metzger, all associated intimately with higher education.

Dr. Chauncey, president of Educational Testing Service, is secretary of the Citizens Committee for Higher Education in New Jersey. Dr. Gross is president of Rutgers University and Mr. Metzger is a member of the class of 1906 at Princeton University and chairman of the New Jersey Region of the National Student Association.

The Citizens Committee for Higher Education, of which Dr. Robert Goheen is chairman, is a non-partisan group of New Jersey educators formed last year to bring before the public the state's inadequate facilities for higher education.

GI BENEFITS DEFINED

Under New Bill. The following report from Congressman Frank Thompson Jr., the Mercer-Burlington Representative in Washington, lists the principal advantages from the new GI bill signed this month by President Johnson.

"An estimated 9,950 veterans in Mercer and Burlington Counties are potentially eligible for benefits and services under the new GI Bill signed by President Johnson. The new GI Bill provides education and training programs generally patterned after GI Bills of World War II and the Korean Conflict. I was a strong supporter of the bill.

"The Veterans Administration estimates more than 1,260 veterans in the Fourth Congressional District will take advantage of the educational benefits and thereby receive $801,000 in support payments in the first year of the program. The educational provisions of the new bill go into effect June 1, 1966, giving the veteran ample time to plan his schooling program.

"In addition to the educational benefits, the program is expected to provide VA guaranteed loans totaling about $4 million to some 245 veterans in the first year. The veterans covered under this bill are also eligible for hospital benefits, and 1,580 patient days at a cost of $40,700 are expected to be made available in applying veterans in the first year.

"All veterans are eligible for educational and guaranteed home loan benefits who were on active duty more than 180 days after January 31, 1955, and honorary discharged or who were discharged with less than 180 days service because of a service-incurred disability.

"Under the education and training sections, monthly payments for full time training are: $100 for veterans without dependents; $125 for veterans with one dependent; $150 for veterans with more than one dependent. Veterans eligible can receive up to 36 months of schooling or training on the basis of one month for each month spent in uniform. The veteran must complete his program of education within eight years after discharge, or within eight years of June 1, 1966.

"The formula for eligibility of the veterans to participate in the GI home loan program is the same as that already in existence, that is, 10 years from the date of discharge, plus one year for each three months served. Entitlement shall not continue beyond 20 years, nor shall it expire before 10 years.

Guaranteed or insured loan ceiling remains at $7,500. Medical and hospital care is available on the same basis as for wartime veterans. Other benefits include burial benefits, employment assistance and veteran's preference in Federal employment."

that a hurricane is approching the New Jersey area, and that the governor has declared a state of emergency. The storm will enter the Delaware Bay area early Saturday morning and proceed north, with winds of 120 to 150 miles per hour.

The eye of the storm will pass through Riverton at 10 a.m. with slightly diminishing winds, and will continue north northwest into New York. High tides will threaten the coast, and tornadoes will affect some areas, but not Princeton.

Sirens will be sounded Saturday at 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. to alert residents of the start and completion of the exercise. However, the public will not participate in the operations.

Princeton's Emergency Control Center will be activated Friday night at 7 to establish communications wth the Mercer Country Civil Defense and Disaster Control Center for briefing on the storm's progress. On Saturday morning, the staff will report its readiness to the Emergency Operating Center.

The Center will direct emergency operations and advise the County Operation Center of the situation. To avoid confusion, officials participating in the exercise will preface their telephone message with the words "Operation Hurricane Alert."

FUR FASHIONS MODELED

By Ladies Auxiliary, The Ladies Auxiliary of the Princeton Lions Club held a fur fashion show and dessert-card party at the Nassau Inn. The Auxiliary presented a mink wrap to the winner of the raffle, Mrs. Eunice C. Abbots of Trenton.

More than 150 women were on hand to see fashions supplied by the Flemington Fur Company modeled by club members. Several door prizes were presented by Princeton area merchants.

The event benefitted the Auxiliary's Nurses' Scholarship Fund and other Princeton charities.

VOTE SCHEDULED

For P.T.O. Re-Organization. Parents of children attending the Community Park and Valley Schools will be able to discuss and vote on a motion to disband the Joint Parent-Teacher Organization and form separate groups at the annual busines meeting next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Valley Road Library.

The P.T.O. executive board voted unanimously to present the motion to the membership. The motion has been proposed because of the difference in age of the groups served by the schools and the consequent difference in interests of the parents.

Letters will be mailed to members detailing the proposal, the reasons for it, and urging them to participate.

CHAMBER GROUP TO PLAY

At McCarter, Compositions from the contemporary and Romantic repertoire will be played by the Princeton Chamber Orchestra under Nicholas Harsanyi on Monday, April 11, at 8.30 in McCarter Theatre.

Robert Bloom will be oboe soloist in the Cimarosa Concerto for Oboe and String Orchestra. The orchestra will also play "Homage to Handel" by Lieberson; a Divertimento by Bartok and the Serenade in C Major, Op. 48 by Tschaikowsky.

The Princeton Chamber Orchestra consists of 21 players, including six first violins, five second violins, four violas, four cellis and two doublebass. The ensemble made its debut in McCarter in October, 1964 and its Town Hall debut last April.

CAR HITS PEDESTRIAN

Crossing Palmer Square, Henry M. Emenecker, 59, of Marlton, was knocked to the pavement by a car Thursday morning as he attempted to cross Palmer Square East at Hulfish Street. He was taken to Princeton Hospital with an acute back strain.

A witness told police he saw Mr. Emenecker start to cross, hesitate, and then start again. It was his opinion, he said, that the driver of the car — identi-

High School Paper Defends School's Name

The following editorial, titled "In Defense," is reprinted from the current issue of The Tower, Princeton High School student newspaper:

During the past four or five weeks the local papers have run a series of exposes on the underground activities of the local youth. The townspeople have every right to worry about their town becoming another Darien, but they have no right to trace their problems to Princeton High School.

There have been problems with drugs in Princeton before this and the incidents of drinking among high school students is not new either. However, in the face of a rash of new problems, people have decided to take some action to protect themselves and their own. But what about protection for PHS?

When a teenager is involved in a wrong-doing the papers report him as a student of Princeton High School, never as a student of Mr. and Mrs. So-and-So, his parents, which would be a great deal more logical. We are overanxious to protect the name of individuals rather than a whole community of individuals, which is the high school. When one youth gets in trouble, 1,799 others are blamed.

Should trouble occur at PHS, the school handles it. But if trouble occurs at a private home or in the street, no one should lay the blame at the door of PHS, which only helps guide a student's life for a few hours a day. If a parent is not able to control his own child, the high school should not be asked to give out party rules or curfews.

Morality, responsibility, and honesty are not subjects offered at PHS. They are supposed to have been taught at home. The majority of our students who have learned these things are insulted by the implications to the contrary. If a person is irresponsible or destructive, don't automatically associate his with our name. Don't generalize at the expense of Princeton High School.

fied by police as Don M. Wolfe, 63, of 42 Fackler Road — thought the pedestrian was waiting for him to pass. There were no charges.

In the Township, four Princeton High School girls escaped injury when the car in which they were riding went out of control on Cherry Hill Road into a ditch and turned over on its side. The mishap occurred Friday afternoon at 3:30 not far from the intersection of Route 206.

Ayshe Obiekhan, 17, 65 Wiggins Street, told the investigating officer, Sgt. Jack Petrone, that she lost control. She applied her brakes to avoid an oncoming car which caused her car to veer to the right into a ditch. It had to be towed away.

Three passengers, who climbed out unhurt, were Kerya Gilvary, 15, 11 College Road; Carla Gustafson, 14, Skillman; and Alice Bennison, 16, Terhune Road. Sgt. Petrone attributed the accident to inexperience.

Colin S. Pittendrigh Jr., 17, 50 Springdale Road, also escaped injury when his car failed to make an "S" curve on Hardin Road Sunday. His car struck a pine tree and tore up 50 feet of cyclone fence belonging to the School for Advanced Study.

Young Pittendrigh told Sgt. Lester Anderson he had just turned onto Hardin from Olden Lane where there is an "S" curve. He said that he was driving too fast and failed to recover from the first curve. There were no charges.

MONEY BAG STOLEN

From Parked Bus. A money bag containing $351.13 was reported stolen Monday from a parked bus on Witherspoon Street.

Michael Fuschini, driver of a small bus for The Tenacre Foundation, told police he had parked it on Witherspoon Street in front of the Grotto Restaurant. After he had received the money from the bank, he left it in the bus while he went into a store next to the Grotto to make a purchase. When he returned, the bag was gone.

Mr. Fuschini retraced his route with the police but to no avail.

Marty Bratman, owner of Viking Furniture, 259 Nassau Street, reported the theft of furniture from a store which he rents for storage purposes adjacent to the Esquire Lunchenette.

Missing, he said, were three wrought iron and wood bar stools valued at $10 each and a $65 rug. Police said that a rear door had been forced open.

CARS ARE DAMAGED

By Vandals. The radio antennas of three cars, all parked on Tulane Street, were broken off last week, Borough police reported. "Some juvenile just went along and snapped them off," said Chief Peter J. McCrehan.

James Laurie, Hodge Hall, Princeton Seminary, told police that the windshield of his car, parked in the lot near the Seminary power house, had been smashed. Police added nothing was missing from the car.

MET STAR TO SING

At Westminster College. Mildred Miller, mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, who has also performed with the San Francisco and the Vienna State Operas, will present a concert at the Westminster Choir College Saturday April 2, at 8. The concert is open to the public without charge.

Miss Miller is currently appearing in "The Merry Wives of Windsor" on Broadway. In 1965, she was awarded the Grand Prix du Disque for her recording of Brahms' "Alto Rhapsody" and Mahler's "Songs of a Wayfarer" with Bruno Walter.

Among the selections on the concert program are Schumann's "Liederkreis," four songs by Richard Strauss and a series of Mozart German lieder. John Wustman will accompany Miss Miller.

CAN YOU SING?

Or Just Work? Auditions for the latest Princeton Opera Association Workshop will be under way shortly. That's for singers. Anyone interested in sustaining the singers by working behind the scenes, is invited to sign up, too.

The Association plans more performances of "Hansel and Gretel" and a summer "opera in the park" series, besides new productions in the fall.

The workshop has been planned for this spring, and will be under the direction of Emile Renan, stage director and artist with the New York City Opera and the Lake George Opera Company.

Singers or otherwise, should call Mrs. Frank Schley, 921-1143; Mrs. Donald Eeroyd, 883-9709 or Mrs.Noreen Barnes, 201-359-3404.

TWO, IN CONCERT

At McCarter. On Monday night the violinist, Shumei Ashkenasi, and the pianist, Vladimir Sokoloff, presented a recital at McCarter Theatre before Series 1 concertgoers.

The program included the "Rondo Brilliant" in B Minor, Op. 70 by Franz Schubert; Bach's Sonata NO. 3 in C for Unaccompanied Violin; the Sonata NO. 2 Violin and Piano (1922) and the Romanian Folk Dances by Bela Bartok; and the Scherzo-Tarantelle by Henri Wieniawski.

The two most noticeable characteristics about Mr. Ashkenasi's violin artistry would appear to be his uncanny ability to play everything with amazing clarity and with impeccable intonation. His tone is not brilliant, though unwaveringly pure and smooth. His performances, however, seemed to lack warmth, expressiveness and a sense of individuality in his interpretations.

In the second movement of Bach's Sonata, these flaws were less important and the best playing of the evening may be said to have been recorded with the performance of this work. Bach's "Unaccompanied" violin works are no mean feat for even the most superlative soloists, yet Mr. Ashkenasi appeared to be playing effortlessly. The Fugue movement of this Bach Sonata was magnificently rendered with all the parts clearly audible. In the slow movement, Mr. Ashkenasi fared less well. He seemed to pass over its beautiful contents as if the music were less essential to the whole of the work.

The Bartok Sonata is one of the composer's most adventurous essays in string writing, overshadowed by his quartets, but no less rewarding or inventive. The performance was ordered, immaculate but somehow did not manage to catch fire. Mr. Sokoloff played with taste and vigor when vigor was required, but Mr. Ashkenasi simply did not provide an exciting or impassioned enough rendition for this listener's taste. Again one sensed a cool, calm detachment from the music. The notes went by flawlessly and there was a sense of ensemble between the two musicians, but the performance failed to posses the dramatic intensity long associated with this piece.

The lovely Romanian Folk Dances, an early work by Bartok, received a delightful, clean presentation as did the Wieniawski "showpiece" which concluded the program.

PEPSI COLA, '59? Guess again. It's a white wine, and it will undoubtedly be served at the Wine Tasting sponsored by the Chamber Orchestra Guild for the benefit of the orchestra. Christian H. Aall and Mrs. John J. Burns are the samplers.

NO RED?

White Wine Only. A wine-tasting for connoisseurs of white wine or connoisseurs of red wine who want to broaden their horizons, will be held Saturday, Aoril 16, from 5 to 8 p.m. at Princeton Day School for the benefit of the Princeton Chamber Orchestra. The Chamber Orchestra Guild is the sponsor.

In preparation for the event, a committee of wine-tasters has been wine-tasting. Sampling, comparing and pre-selecting the wines, they have been meeting as often as possible in the serious pursuit of their responsibility.

The committee consists of Christian H. Aall, William J. Baumol, Michael Balinski, Stuart Duncan, Jeremiah A. Farrington, Ernest A. Lynton and Lucius Wilmerding.

At the Wine Tasting, guests will be able to examine informative notes prepared by the Wine Selection Committee and the gentlemen themselves will be on hand to defend their choices, or to discuss the wines with anybody who will chat between sips. White wine, only Music, Too. The Princeton Chamber Orchestra, beneficiary of all this conviviality, will play twice for 15 minutes: 6 to 6:15 and 7 to 7:15.

Drawing and sketches by Princeton artists will be on display and for sale, and copies of "Choosing and Enjoying Wines" compiled by the editors of "Holiday" magazine, will be available. So will Arnold Roth, cartoonist who illustrated the book. He will autograph it for anyone who buys a copy.

The Wine Tasting is open to the public at $6 per person.

(Only persons over 21 may attend.) Tickets may be ordered by sending a check, payable to "Chamber Orchestra Guild," to Mrs. Lize Burgers, 270 Hamilton Avenue, Princeton.

Members of the Chamber Orchestra Guild board of directors are Mrs. S.B.Penick III, chairman; Mrs. James J. McCord, vice-president; Mrs. MacKenty Bryan, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William J. Baumol, recording secretary; Mrs. Burgers, treasurer and Mrs. Frank Lewis and Lady Gladys Lewis, co-chairmen of the Wine Tasting Committee. Mrs. John J. Burns is Decorations Chairman.

TWO GUITARS

And Chamber Orchestra. Classic guitarists Ida Presti and Alexandre Lagoya will be soloists with the Princeton Chamber Orchestra next Monday at 8:30 in McCarter Theatre.

The guitarists have chosen two concerti for two guitars, one by Haydn and the other by Vivaldi. In addition, the orchestra will play Bach's Brandenburg Concerto No.5, the Symphony II for String Orchestra and Flute by the contemporary Swiss composer, Paul Muller-Zurich and "Elegy" by Matbilde McKinney. Nicholas Harsanyi will conduct.

A champagne punch party given by the members of the Chamber Orchestra Guild for members of the orchestra, their wives and members of the Chamber Orchestra Board, will follow the concert. Each Chamber Orchestra Guild members is allowed to bring a guest.

ART WORKSHOPS OFFERED

By Studio on the Canal. The Studio on the Canal will offer four workshops this spring, beginning April 4 and continuing for ten weeks. The instruction will be directed at the level of the individual student, and the class sizes will be limited.

Included on the schedule is an outdoor workshop in which Joon Shepherd will teach various aspects of drawing and water color and oil painting. The ceramic workshop for adults, taught by Joan Horrocks, offers practice in hand modeling, decorating techniques and the use of the potter's wheel and other tools.

Rex Gorleigh's evening drawing and painting class is designed for beginners. Mr. Gorleigh also conducts the children's painting workshop in Saturday mornings which includes work with ceramics.

TO EXPLORE AIRCRAFT

At Piper Plant. Princeton's Air Explorers Post 80 is planning a trip to the Lock Haven, Pa. plant of the Piper Aircraft Corporation on April 25. The boys will be shown aspects of aircraft, production and testing by Piper officials.

The Princeton Air Explorers Post is organized for boys between 14 and 18 who are interested in aviation, aircraft and aerospace industry. The Post is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Princeton and the Boy Scouts of America.

Boys interested in joining the Air Explorers organization are invited to contact Chandler Wentworth, 42 Linden Avenue, 924-3262. Mr. Wentworth, who works at RCA Laboratories, is the Post's advisor.

GOUCHER CLUB TO MEET

To Hear Spanish Teacher. The Goucher Club of Princeton will meet Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Chester D. Schomp, Teak Lane, to hear Dr. Enrique Noble, professor of Spanish at Goucher College, Towson, Md.

Dr. Noble, who has degrees from Havana Institute and the University of Havana, came to Goucher in 1952. The following year, he initiated an experimental program designed to teach Spanish to kindergarten and elementary school children. He often lectures to cultural and civic groups in Baltimore, and is a frequent contributor to periodicals.

Anyone wishing to attend the meeting may contact Mrs. Schomp or the club secretary, Mrs. Robert J. Hillier, 333 Nassau Street, 921-8080.

OFFICERS ELECTED

By Hillcrest Civic Group. The Hillcrest Civic Association elected its officers for 1966-67 at its last meeting. It was followed by a discussion of civic affairs with Carl C. Schafer, mayor of Princeton Township and an association member.

The new officers are Dr. Ernest A. Linder, president; Harry J. Volwiler, treasurer; and Mrs. Alfred J. Seitz, secretary. New trustees are Dr. Irving Wolff, Ralph Lippincott and Col. James L. Green.

Retiring officers are O. E. Merkt, president; Ralph Lippincott, treasurer; and Mrs. M. L. Kilgallon, secretary. Former trustees include Dr. Irving Wolff and Kenneth H. Sternkoph.

LIONS PLAN BREAKFAST

At Junction Firehouse. The West Windsor Lions Club is preparing a Pancake and Sausage Breakfast to be held from 8 to noon Sunday at the Princeton Junction Fire House.

Tickets cost $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children. They may be purchased from any club member. The proceeds will go to the Lions' Activity fund.

CHURCH SEEKS VARIANCE

To Build Addition. The Borough Zoning Board will hear three requests at its meeting Thursday evening.

The First Baptist Church on the corner of Green and John Streets wishes to construct a new entrance and erect a Sunday School addition in the area between the church and the manse. To do so, it must first be granted several yard variances, said Borough Engineer Thomas Cawley.

Carnegie Building Inc., 221 Nassau Street, will seek waiver of an off street parking requirement which it needs in order to add new offices in its basement, Mr. Cawley said the waiver request involves three more spaces.

Michael Carnevale, 103 Linden Lane, needs a front yard variance to proceed with his plans to extend and enclose the front porch of his home.

NEW FILMS AVAILABLE

At Public Library. The Princeton Public Library has received an assortment of 16 mm. sound films in color and black and white from the New Jersey Film Circuit. They will be available to Princeton residents through the middle of April.

The selection includes "Beaver Valley", the story of the life of a beaver; "Electronic Computers and Applied Mathematics", a simplified explanation of the workings of computers; "Home-Made Car", a story of a young car restorer; and "Instruments of the Orchestra", and introduction to the symphony orchestra.

Princeton residents may reserve the films by calling the librarian at 924-9529.

MS CHAIRMAN NAMED

For Annual Appeal, Assemblyman Edward J. Sweeney, of 181 North Harrison Street, has been named chairman of the 1966 MS Hope Cheat Appeal conducted by the Central New Jersey Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. This is Assemblyman Sweeney's second year as chairman of the Appeal.

The chapter donates 40% of the funds raised to the National MS Society for research. The remaining 60% is used to care for area MS patients by paying for home nursing and by providing wheelchairs, crutches and other equipment.

SCHOOL DANCE PLANNED

With Roaring 20's Theme. The third annual dinner dance of the Peggy Longstreth Bayer School of Dance will be held at the Princeton Inn April 2 from 7:30 to 11. Roaring 20's costumes will be worn, and a Charleston contest will be featured.

The school concluded its 19th season last week with a student-family tea dance. Mrs. Robert H. Woodside, Mrs. Roger Bart and Mrs. Warren D. Lane were the hostesses.

Edward J. Sweeney

FRENCH PROGRAM SET

At Nassau Street School. The Nassau Street School French Club will present a short musical and a dramatic program Tuesday at 8 p.m. Approximately 50 students from the third, fourth and fifth grades will participate in the program.

Miss Benital Bendon will direct the program which features a pantomime called "The Emperor's Visit. The pantomime portrays the dogged but vain attempts of the head of state to call on one of his subjects.

A short PTA business meeting will be held before the program. Mrs. Stan Aldridge, chairman of the nominating committee, will present the slate of officers for the coming year.

RESPONSE PROGRAM SET

On Cootemporary Art. Novelist Gunter Grass, playwright Arthur Kopit, poet Allen Ginsberg, painter Larry Rivers and movie director Duke Ellington are a few of the artists participating in a program entitled 'What's Happening: The Arts 1966" at Princeton University's annual Response weekend.

This year's symposium will take place April 22 and 23 and will include lectures, panel discussions, concerts, movies and readings covering a wide variety of aspects of contemporary art. Subjects range from television commercials to electronic music.

The program will begin the evening of Friday the 22 with a panel discussion on "Style in the 60's." Larry Rivers, Allen Ginsberg, Gunter Grass and avant-garde journalist Tom Wolfe are among the participants.

Later discussions will consider criticisms of modern art, LeCorbusier, the role of artist and critic and urban architectural concepts such as the linear city. Tom Wolfe and Arthur Kopit will give lectures on topics which will be announced later, and Paul Krassner, editor of "The Realist," will give a speech called "I Was a Teach-In Drop-Out."

Princeton artist Darby Bannard will participate with Larry Rivers and sculptor James Wines in a panel discussion on the visual arts on Saturday. Film director Gregory Markopoulos will exhibit and speak on several of his experimental films.

A program of electronic music will be presented Saturday afternoon by Princeton University professor Milton Babbitt, J. K. Randall and Godfrey Winham. The same afternoon, Allen Ginsberg and two other poets will read from their work.

One of the symposium's most unusual events will be a festival of television commercials. The American Television Commercial Festival will present its academy awards for the best commercials of last year, and will show a program of classic American and foreign commercials.

Duke Ellington's Saturday night concert at McCarter Theater will cap the weekend. Tickets for the concert can be purchased at McCarter. Tickets for the other events can be obtained by writing Response, Princeton University. The cost for the entire program is $3 for students and $5 for adults.

News Of The CHURCHES

TALLY QUESTIONNAIRES On Inter-church Study. Participants in the inter-denominational Epiphany Study Program favor an Old Testament study next year with members of the Jewish community.

They request stronger participation by members of the Princeton Pastors' Association, more support within the individual churches and a more careful selection of group discussion leaders.

Out of 104 questionnaires returned to the Princeton Christian Unity Committee, which co-sponsored the Epiphany Study with the Pastors' Association, 86 favored an Old Testament Study; four opposed, the remainder abstained from comment.

Seventy participants said unequivocally that they would attend special events at neighboring churches; 10 said it depended upon the event.

The study this winter was based on the Book of Acts. Some participants stated that the source book "Mandates to Witness" by Leander Keck, was inadequate for their discussions; others that the book was difficult to obtain.

Suggestions. Within the area of the responsibility of the churches in ecumenicism, participants have these suggestions:

- Widening participation possibly through talks before chruch groups by study members.
- Invitational dinners at different churches.
- Church tours.
- Work on local problems interdenominationally.

Pastors responsibility to ecumenical study should include complete support to the program, pulpit exchanges, publicity within their churches.

Discussion groups themselves, participants suggest, should:

- Hold a yearly Bible study.
- Establish groups with a theologically qualified leader.
- Continue the study groups, with varied topics.
- Establish monthly meetings.
- Include Roman Catholics and Jews.

- Deepen the spiritual aspect of the meetings.
- Invite college age and graduate students to participate.

The PCUC, participants, needs a more active committee "with new blood." It should:

- Schedule the program with an option of a three-week follow-up.
- Make texts available.
- Have an active roll of members.
- Suply better-trained leadership.
- Keep the subjects simple and relevant for today.

The evaluation of the questionnaires, prepared by Mrs. Helen Stitely and Miss Jacqueline Kottle of the PCUC, has been presented to the Pastors' Association. A get-together for all Epiphany Study participants is being planned by the PCUC for 8 p.m. on Thursday, April 21, at Stuart Country Day School.

"TEENAGERS' CHALLENGE" Is Breakfast Club Topic G. Rogers Carrington, executive director of Princeton Youth Associates, will discuss "Teenagers' Challenge to the Adult World" on Sunday at the 8:30 a.m. Men's Breakfast Club session in the Nassau Inn.

Mr. Carrington works closely with teenagers by going directly to the high schools and mingling with the students. By becoming closely involved, he has a wide knowledge of their frustrations, ambitions and their appraisal of the adult world.

The Breakfast Club is nonsectarian. Men of all faiths are welcome. The only charge is $2 for breakfast. Reservations should be made by calling Ray Arrowsmith, 896-1234 during the day, or 896-0178 evenings.

CHOIR CONCERT SET At Westerly Road Church. The 40-voice Ambassador Choir of Columbia (S. C.) Bible College will give a concert of sacred music at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, March 29, at Westerly Road Church, 37 Westerly Road. The public is welcome.

The choir, currently on a two-week tour in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, is composed of student preparing for Christian service both in the United States and the foreign mission field.

G. William Supplee, director of the music department, will lead the choir. Miss Carol Schuit, a junior, will accompany at the piano.

PLAN LENTEN CONCERT At Lawrenceville Church. The Easter portion of Handel's "Messiah" will be presented by the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church choir and a 30-piece orchestra at 8 p.m. this Sunday.

The 40-voice choir will feature as soloists Dolores Horch and Eleanor Smith, sopranos; Mary Alice Witte, contralto; Dennis Fairburn, tenor, and Harold Johnson, bass.

Vernon Boushell will direct the program with Gail Edwards at the organ. The public is welcome.

HAM SUPPER SET At Pennington Methodist. The annual ham supper at First Methodist Church, Pennington, is scheduled for 5 to 7:30 p.m. this Saturday. Mrs. James E. Daggett III is chairman.

Assisting her are Mrs. Charles Austin, dining room; Mrs. William Kastrinos, kitchen, and Mrs. Clifford Haines, tickets. A nursery will be provided.

Tickets are $2.25 for adults; $1 for children age 5 to 12.

Lenten Events

Noon-day Community Services: Thursday, 12:10 p.m., Rev. Charles G. Newbery of All Saints' Chapel, preacher; auspices Princeton Pastors' Assn.; First Presbyterian Church. (Luncheon served 12:30-1 p.m.)

Messiah Lutheran Church: Mid-week Lenten service, 8 p.m., Wed., March 30; preacher— Rev. Martin Lehfeldt, director of teaching internship program for Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

Princeton Methodist Church: Wednesday Lenten service, 8 p.m.; Rev. Jackson W. Carroll, Methodist chaplain at Duke University, March 23; Rev. Paul E. Schrading, Methodist chaplain at University of Pittsburgh, March 30.

Church and Society Forum: 8 p.m. Wednesday; Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church.

Hopewell Community Service: 8 p.m., Wed., March 30; two dramas by Pennington Presbyterian Church Players.

MUSICIAN TO LECTURE At Princeton Seminary. Erik Routey, British church musician and historian, will deliver the 1966 Stone Lecture series at Princeton Seminary April 11-14. His topic is "Words, Music and the Church Today."

The five lectures are scheduled for 7:45 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, in the Miller Chapel.

Dr. Routley has published some 25 volumes, including works in hymnology and church history. The holder of four degrees from Oxford University, he is currently the minister of the Augustine-Bristo Congregational Church of Edinburgh, Scotland.

BULLETIN NOTES

Former Trinity Rector. The Very Rev. John V. Butler, dean of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York City, and former rector of Trinity Episcopal Parish, will return this Sunday to conduct the 9 a.m. service in All Saints' Chapel and the 11 a.m. worship in Trinity Church. The parish has recently established a Mary McKee Butler Fund in memory of his wife.

Easter Hat Sale. The Ladies Guild of First Baptist Church will sponsor a sale of Easter hats this Saturday in the lower auditorium of the church. Doors open at 7:30 p.m.; all hats are priced $3.98.

In the Pulpit. Rev. Dr. Donald M. Stine, professor of Biblical literature and exegesis at New York Theological Seminary, will preach this Sunday at Kingston Presbyterian Church. His topic is "Last of the Prophets."

Rev. Charles A. Reinhardt will give a sermon titled, "A Liberal in Dixie" this Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service in the Unitarian Church of Princeton-Cherry Hill Road and Route 206.

Obituaries

HOUSE HUNTING?

6 BEDROOMS . . . on two lovely acres in the Township, with trees in the background, this fine residence looks like a manor house, with its post-and-rail fences, the meadow in front and the long driveway. Indoors: foyer, large living room with fireplace, dining room, huge kitchen, family room with fireplace, powder room, 6 bedrooms, 3 baths. Screened porch overlooking the garden and woods. Located so far back from the road, this is a great place for a large family. Johnson Park school only a short walk away.
(Sole Agent) $74,500

For other Fine Homes in Princeton, please see our advertisements on page 51.

LIVE IN THE LAP OF SUMMER LUXURY with a 20 x 50 pool, complete with cabana, bar, 2 dressing rooms! With it comes a large house (5 or 6 BR) that provides most comfortable living the year round. 2 tree-ful acres in the Western Section on a quiet road — AND SUBSTANTIALLY REDUCED for a quick sale to a reasonable $67,500

NICE TRADITIONAL TWO-STORY HOME. Entrance hall, living rm, separate dining rm., recreation rm, 3 BR, 2 baths. Nice big trees. We think this is a buy in today's market. $38,000

DELIGHTFUL DUTCH COLONIAL, well-kept and appealing. Entrance hall, separate dining rm., 4 BR, modern bath. Pretty grounds. Lawrenceville proper. $24,500

SO GOOD TO STAY HOME IN would be this delightful home on a peaceful lane in the Western Township. Small, sparkling clean and sunny, with a peaceful view over a pond. This perfect retirement home is easy to love and to maintain. $60,000

FIVE BEDROOM FURNISHED RENTAL starting July 1 for school year. Good family house near Littlebrook School.

IF YOUR TASTE RUNS TO APARTMENT LIVING, but you also like Princeton, this quite elegant little one-story house near town should solve your dilemma. 5 rooms, including modern kitchen and 2 baths, provide ample space for 2 or 3 people to live stylishly yet simply. Charming secluded terrace and garden right in keeping with the house. $47,500

LIKE THE WEATHERED SHINGLE NEW ENGLAND COLONIAL? Given a few years for mellowing, this sunny one year old should have a good deal of that look. Lovely living rm., handsome family rm. (both with fireplaces), pretty dining rm., cozy study, efficient kitchen with eating area, laundry/lavatory and mud room. Four BR, 2 baths upstairs. Warm and tasteful touches throughout. Natural woodsy setting enhanced by nice planting and overlooked by a large, curving, raised terrace, accessible from dining and family rooms. 1¼ acres in excellent Twp. area. $65,000

LOVELY FAMLY ROOM TO LIVE IN, IMPRESSIVE LIVING ROOM TO ENTERTAIN IN are interior highlights of this generally pleasant ranch house. Really fine kitchen, eating area warmed by a fireplace, 3 BR, 2 tiled baths, extra multi-use room — all add up to attractive liveability. As to the grounds — come Spring, the house should be snapped up (if it waits till then). Imaginative landscaping, lovely greenery, pretty pool. $55,000

NOT BIG, NOT SMALL, JUST COMFORTABLE for a family of 3 or 4. Twp. Colonial in wonderfully convenient location. Living rm., dining rm., kitchen, 3 BR, 1½ baths. With tender loving care the house could be quite appealing, as could the grounds, which offer good summertime seclusion. $27,500

APPEALING ADAPTABLE

A house with all sorts of charming features to distinguish it from run-of-the-mill split levels. To begin with its uniquely lovely setting on a quiet road very near Princeton. The lot borders a small brook with woods behind.

Indoors the first level has a dramatic entrance hall, paneled guest room, full bath and family room with french doors opening to a big, screened, plastic roofed porch (wired for lights and appliances).

Front and back stairs bath lead to the second level which has a large living room with fireplace, dining ell and ultra-modern kitchen with built-in snack bar.

On the third level there are 3 bedrooms, bath and lots of generous closets.

This is a house which has been lovingly nurtured and developed till it radiates that special glow that makes a home unforgettably attractive.

SWING INTO SPRING

with one of this Tempting Trio
Good things often do happen in threes and this threesome adds up to exciting living.

NUMBER ONE is a Rolicking Ranch House situated on a beautifully landscaped lot with a brook thrown in for good measure. The house has 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, a lovely living room with an old brick fireplace and a painted beamed ceiling and a double picture window, a dining "L", and a large modern kitchen with a breakfast area. As icing on the cake these is washer-dryer, refrigerator-freezer and a pool table included in the purchase price. To complete the list you will find a large dry basement with a T.V. room and great storage space Oh yes, there is also a terrace landscaped with rose bushes which is a fine place to relax. $39,500

NUMBER TWO boasts of Frank Lloyd Wright as Architect. Its living room has a high ceiling and a fireplace. There is lovely upholstered seating and built-in bookcases to complete the air of gracious contemporary living. The house also offers a dining area, modern kitchen, a choice of 2 or 3 bedrooms (the 3rd may be used as a den) and 1½ baths. All of this on approximately 2 acres with frontage on the Millstone River. The trees and landscaping complete a perfect setting for this exceptional home. $54,000

NUMBER THREE is a marvelous modern Colonial which is almost too good to be true First of all, it is fully air conditioned and if spring is here, can summer be far behind? The main floor has living room, dining room, double master bedroom with lavatory, 2 other bedrooms and a full bath. On the ground floor the house offers a second living room, another bedroom (or library if you prefer), large utility room, half bath and a darkroom. You might note that part of the ground floor was designed for an apartment or a professional suite. The landscaping is excellent and includes a pond complete with water lillies, aquatic plants and goldfish galore. $56,000

HEY, THERE MUST BE SOMETHING FUNNY ABOUT THIS ONE . . . "A miniature horse farm on over ten acres of lovely rolling countryside only minutes north of town. Woods, pasture, a brook. Four year old house engineered on three levels to conform with its hillside site and admirably constructed of warm pink brick. Living and family rooms each have fireplaces. Compact kitchen. Four bedrooms (two nearly 18' square), 2½ baths, laundry, two car garage. Masonry barn, fenced paddock and riding ring." Aw, c'moo, $48,000? "You bet, and you can have it with less land for less money." You may think there's something a little funny but we think the funniest thing for you will be getting the last laugh when you've taken advantage of this opportunity which less imaginative house hunters have passed up.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE: THAT A MAGNIFICENT STONE HOUSE IN A MOST DISTINGUISHED PRINCETON BOROUGH LOCATION HAS SUDDENLY COME ON THE MARKET?

BACKYARD SHANGRI-LA: a bedroom suite as luxurious and thoughtfully appointed as any you might find at the poshest resort. Wouldn't $50 a day be peanuts for a dramatic, high-ceilinged room flooded with overhead light from clerestory windows and banked with every manner of storage unit from built-in bureaus to compartments for hats and gloves? Handsome bath, delightful study, private sundeck. This flamboyant wing has recently been wedded to an eminently sensible Garrison colonial having living room, dining room, kitchen, playroom, laundry, 3 bedrooms 1½ baths and a two car garage. A match made in Heaven with every chance of happily ever aftering. $30,500

RIDGEVIEW ROAD: in the northwest township is a wonderful place to live. It's high ground, heavily wooded and has the atmosphere of deep country. But, it's all of eight minutes from Nassau Street, the Johnson Park School bus runs right by, and the Day Schools and Stuart are just a short bike ride down the Great Road. We can offer you a two acre building site here for $16,000. City water is in and sewer is under way Drive out and look for our sign.

WESTERN SECTION RETIREMENT HOUSE: just made for someone wishing to consolidate. Spacious rooms but few of them. Living and dining rooms with southern exposure, study, two bedrooms and two baths. Equipped kitchen Garage. Beautifully planted and completely secluded grounds. $47,500

I AM SUCH A TENDER ASS! Bottom's the name. (That's Bottom on the left). He is eating a banana from the mischievous hand of Puck who is responsible for those two long ears and the hairy snout. All part of the good fun in "A Midsummer Night's Dream," due in a children's version at McCarter on Easter weekend. (Bottom is Clarence Felder, Puck is David Byrd.)

News Of The THEATRES

"CANDIDA" TO OPEN

Shaw Work Next. Ann Gee Byrd will play the title role in McCarter's production of Bernard Shaw's "Candida," due to open this Friday at 8:30 as the fourth play in the current series.

David Byrd, husband of Ann Gee, will play James Morrell and Gregory Abels will be Eugene Marchbanks. Charlotte Glenn, James Tripp and Emery Battis complete the cast. Mario Siletti, McCarter's associate director, is in the director's chair.

Subsequent performances of "Candida" will be given this Saturday at 8:30 next Thursday, March 31 at 7:30; April 3 at 3 p.m. and Friday, April 15 at 8:30.

"Arrah-Na-Pogue," the last play in the five-play series, will open on Friday, April 1. There is one remaining performance of "Miss Julie" and "Box and Cox." It will be given on Saturday, April 9.

GRECO IN THE WINGS

With Spanish Troupe. Dancers and musicians representative of all the regions and dances of Spain will appear at McCarter next Tuesday at 8:30 when Jose Greco brings his company of 30 to Princeton.

Gitanillo Heredia and Maribel De Cires—the "Bronze Gypsies"—Lydia Torea, the lovely blonde and guitarist Miguel Garcia and the Flamenco singer Manuela de Jerez will be on hand.

In addition to these favorites, Sr. Greco will present a score of new faces recruited from the outstanding dance talents in Spain today.

WELCOME, MARCEL

"By Popular Demand." Sold-out houses at McCarter are an old story for Marcel Marceau, but tickets are still available for his performance at McCarter on Friday, April 22. He will appear in Princeton in a special engagement prior to his return to Paris.

M. Marceau is acknowledged throughout the world as the foremost interpreter of the art of gesture. Television audiences will recall his "Concert in Pantomime" with Red Skelton in February of last year.

SEGARRA TO DANCE

In Ballet Debut. Ramon Segarra will be guest artist with the Princeton Regional Ballet in "Les Sylphides," which the company will present at the War Memorial Auditorium in Trenton this Saturday at 8:30.

The occasion will be the debut of the Princeton Regional Ballet before a Trenton audience. Tickets are on sale at the War Memorial box-office.

ads. Mr. Segarra is at present the ballet master and principal dancer with New Jersey's professional company, the Garden State Ballet.

GREEK COMEDY TO OPEN AT Murray Theatre. The Princeton Community Players' production of Aristophanes' anti-war comedy "Lysistrata" will open for a three-weekend run Friday at Murray Theatre.

In the play, Aristophanes mocks a contemporary war which eventually destroyed Athen. All the outrageous absurdity and bawdiness of the original has been preserved in Dudley Fitts' translation. The cast, directed by Harry Rubel, is headed by Irene Rosenburg as Lysistrata and Aydin Umur as the commissioner.

Tickets may be reserved by calling the box office, 452-3837, between 7 and 8 on any performance night. The cost is $2. School groups of 20 or more can obtain a block of tickets at a reduced price. Further information on ticket blocks is available from Shirley Kauffman, 921-6438.

THE DUKE, HIMSELF

Then Seeger. Duke Ellington will come to Princeton for the first time in a special "Response" weekend program. He will check in at McCarter on Saturday, April 23 at 8:30 p.m. "Response" is the annual series of symposiums sponsored by Princeton University.

Composer, arranger, pianist and bandleader, the Duke is known for his songs — "Mood Indigo," "Sophisticated Lady," "Solitude" — and for his instrumental compositions — "In a Mellowtone," "C Jam Blues," "Black and Tan Fantasy."

He has written for musicals — "Jump for Joy," "Beggar's Holiday" — and for movies — "Anatomy of a Murder," "Paris Blues" and for TV — "Asphalt Jungle."

Pete Seeger will bring his folk songs to Alexander Hall on Saturday, April 30 at 8. Known, now and then, as "Harvard's most noteworthy dropout" he left college and classmate John F. Kennedy to travel through the United States picking up folk music.

With Woody Guthrie, whom he met on his travels, he formed the Almanac Singers, forerunners of the contemporary protest movement in folk singing. His latest album is "God Bless the Grass."

PRINCE

The Silencers (now playing) Chinese agent Tung-Tze, from his underground headquarters, masterminds a ring planning to divert an American missile so that it will destroy the atomic testing ground at Alamogordo, N. Mex.

Super-sleuth Dean Martin, as Matt Helm, leaves his bubble bath awhirling pool and swings into action. The trail leads to a defecting scientist in Phoenix. Armed with some dazzlingly new weapons and a beautiful spy-mate, the great counterspy tangles with kissing killers and fiendish villians in a series of spectacular situations.

The film follows the distinct pattern of the spy spoof, bringing to the screen Donald Hamilton's fictional hero, Matt Helm, whose adventures have filled eight best-sellers. The pace is fast and the cast is excellent, including such beauties as Stella Stevens, Dalliah Lavi, dancer Cyd Charisse and Beverly Adams. There's a brisk musical with Dean Martin doing the singing.

GARDEN

Divorce Italian Style and The Horse's Mouth (now playing). Two subtle comedies, one from Italy, the other from England, return as a double feature, Marcello Mastroianni stars in a sophisticated Italian version of how to unload a boring wife. Alec Guinness has the leading role in "The Horse's Mouth."

PLAYHOUSE and DRIVE-IN

The Spy Who Came in from the Cold (now playing). This cold war espionage thriller comes from the LeCarre novel that has sold over five million copies. It's a rough, tough story of behind-the-scene maneuvering between agents of Britain and the Iron Curtain countries.

Richard Burton is Leamas, the cynical, bes-been agent who allows himself to be used as a pawn. Oskar Werner gives sturdy opposition as Fiedler, the German Jew whose ambitions are thwarted by Mundt, the Communist intelligence chief. Claire Bloom is cast as the leftest librarian who befriends Leamas.

The mood is somber, underplaying the menace of the duplicity on both sides. The director, Martin Ritt, moves the drama slowly towards its bitter

Easter Special

Tickets are still available for the Easter weekend performances of "A Midsummer Nights Dream" at McCarter.

Pruned here and there with the children in mind, this production of Shakespeare's classic is deliberately designed to lure the young into a fondness for Shakespeare.

Two performances will be given: Saturday, April 9 at 2:30 and Easter Sunday at 3. Tickets are 75 cents, $1 and $1.50.

PEEK-A-BOO

Modern Sheer Drapes, White cotton sheer draperies are so full of spring at Viking Furniture you'll want to hang them everywhere right away.

By "sheer" we mean that white cotton has been treated to the most opeo kind of drawn work, so that "Robinette" displays a happy geometry of triangles and half-triangles, "Up-Down" has an overlaid checkerboard effect of narrow and wide stripes and "Geometry" has circles in various sizes arranged against squares.

These fragile creations can be thrown into a washing machine and then into a dryer and any creases will simply disappear as the draperies hang. "Robinette" comes as wide as 300 inches, "Up-Down" has a maximum of 118; "Geometry," 88.

The chair of the year, at an unbelievably low price, is Viking's domestic recliner covered with a vinyl so much like leather it almost moos. Deep back and seat cushions are dacron-down filled and we didn't dare sit down lest we fall sound asleep. A matching otto man stands on walnut legs like the chair arms. The color we saw was "Demi tasse," but there are others.

Plyeraft has copied the Hermann Miller chair for only $200, and if you've shopped for the real Miller, you know that "only" is meaningful. It's a swivel tilt with laminated wood pedestal, ottoman and a choice of vinyl covers.

Newest and sleekest — Viking's little scoop circle chair covered tautly with nylon nylon stretch, just like the kied in your ski pants. No seams, see? It stretches back comfortably in spite of its trim size and it rests on an X base of stainless steel. (A later model will have rosewood lamination atop the steel.)

A matching sofa is scaled downed to 76 inches. Narrow arms and a gently curved back harmonize with the round lines of the chair. Both come in vinyl, too, and that's the way you'll see the sofa.

Another sofa, much more formal, has been done in crushed velvet, deep and slumbrous, on a rosewood frame with slanting cane sides. Actually, the design of the frame can be almost anything you choose, and so can the fabric. But that velvet . . .!

Perhaps the most dramatic piece at Viking is an imposing screen of walnut, plexiglas and extruded aluminum. Look from one side and you see narrow strips of black and brown. Look from the other, and you see the translucence of the plexiglas.

On the small side, Viking is showing a set of maple cutting boards with their own particular drama. They've been made of one-eighth-inch narrow bands of dark and light maple formed into a giant circular board with juice trough around the edge, or a modest little circle for cutting lemons, or an oblong board with knife, for doing up the cheese. $6 to $25.

The Faotanni lamp is a creation of stainless steel and black leather resting on a white marble base. Three lamp arms jut from the slender pole at varying heights and extend far enough out to illumine almost a whole room. Truly a dramtic piece — Viking hopes you'll place it where its drama can be enjoyed.

A more modest lamp is Viking's unadorned stainless cylinder to set on your table. A slim three inches in diameter it rises from a slate square to a simple, classic shade.

MEANWHILE . . .

Try Another Century. Meanwhile, back in the last century and the century before that, people were furnishing living rooms and bedrooms even as you and I.

Country Antiques, across Nassau from Davidson's, has a Pennsylvania pine bedstead as rough, unstained and unoiled as the day it was moved up to the front bedroom. It has massive eanonball tops on the four posters and would be happy and at home in a country bedroom . . .!

The little shop has, quite by coincidence, a 16-inch pine doll bed almost exactly like the real one.

And while we're in the playroom here's an oval drop-leaf for a doll's tea-party, a harvest table with a drawer in each and a wicker doll bed just big enough for your live poodle.

A French fashion doll with a worldly face exquisitely molded of wax is a prize find at Country Antiques. She's 18 inches tall, dressed for a soiree in mauve and lace with lace miffs. She dates from about 1840-25.

Parrish? Who's He?

If you have to ask who Maxwell Parrish was, you belong definitely in the pre-Medicare crowd.

Maxwell Parrish was one of the most popular fireside painters of his day in America. His day was roughly the 19's and 1920's and during that time, he hung in real life or in reproduction, on almost every living room wall in the country, right next to the crystal set.

At Country Antiques, you may buy an original Parrish for $100. It's a gallecn in full sail against that incredible Parrish blue sea and you'll buy it for nostalgia if you're — older, shall we say, and for its coming market value if you're younger. He's going to be next in line after Tiffany lamps.

Anchoring Now a new wave of Navy!

Joan Leslie invades the fashion scene with winning combinations of navy and white.

"LI'L ABNER" DUE

At Rider. Six performances of "Li'l Abner" will be given by the students of Rider Theatre '59 starting this Wednesday at 8 p.m. and continuing this Thursday at 6, Friday at 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. and Saturday at 8:30.

The production will be given in the Alumni Gymnasium on the Rider campus. Ticket information may be obtained by calling 896-5000, extension 386, between 3 and 5 p.m. daily.

Next Tuesday, the 16 students and two faculty members who belong to the "Li'l Abner" touring company, will leave for a 10-week tour of Southeast Asia with their musical.

Under the sponsorship of the Defense Department, the USO and the National Educational Theatre Association, they will perform in Japan, Korea, Hawaii, the Philippines, Formosa, Okinawa and Guam. They hope, in addition, to be given permission to perform in South Viet Nam.

The Rider troupe is the first one to be chosen from an east coast college in the 10-year-history of the overseas program.

A companion is more motherly, with a bosom and a matronly quilted velvet dress. She's from 1810, wax like her friend and riding a two-foot-high horse on wheels. (They are quite separate—the Country Antiques lady set the doll on horseback just for fun.)

Pictures from the past are favorites at Country Antiques' A painting of Major Andre's arrest signed only "A. S." ($450) a lake scene from the Barbizon school, done by the father of Charles Francis Dubigny and signed on the back with a French inscription ($200) and a charming primitive of an early Victorian child painted in all her humao, unglamorous baldness, are particular treasures.

A pastel of a baby on a pony is another appealing primitive, and a pair — husband and wife — painted in central New Jersey around 1860 may be your great-grandfather and great-grandmother!

H. A. Loop was the artist.

STERLING STAPLES?

Silk Scotch Tape? The elegance of the wrought silver desk accessories at the Princeton Gift Shop, Palmer Square, is such that we expect pure silk to flow from the tape dispenser and sterling staples from the stapler.

Four blotter corners, a letter dagger, a pedestal for two pens and countless secretive little boxes lined with red velvet complete the group. The deeply carved silver is tarnish-resistant; aren't you glad?

In the jewelry cases, we find Italian enamel pins ablaze with color and fluid with graceful line. Here's a cockatoo, a sinuous tropical fish, a salamander, a preening rooster, a butterfly with layered wings and a shy little snail.

Color comes again in a long, graduated strand of Venetian glass beads with the color baked into each bead. Comes in choker length, too.

The designers of Finland have executed some bar glasses too lovely to fill. Highballs, narrower than most, rise gently in a taper from the slim bottom. The glass is regally thin and light. Lovely with the paleness of Scotch and the bubbles of soda. Cordials and cocktails have a squared foot design, like the form of the fruit bowl and the little individual glass bowls.

Coasters of glass, double to prevent sweating, have a seed-sized golf ball between the glass layers, a thin strip to represent a cross - section of the green and even a little flag. You maneuver the ball around like one of those pur-

makes wrinkles
diminish
or vanish in 2 weeks

With a substance new to cosmetics, named Genova, aging skin can start looking younger and younger — not older and older.
After a two-week trial on a selected group of women, a noted dermatologist reports on the ingredients in Genova:
"Disappearance of smell wrinkles was accomplished in two-week period; even the very deepest wrinkles showed very great improvement."
Dr. W. P. also comments, "the small superficial wrinkles responded dramatically." And he adds that the skin was "more translucent and smoothar in appearance."
These results are nothing short of amazing. And it took a new cosmetic compound to do it.
Genova was developed by the trustworthy Nina laboratory. Designed to be used twice daily — under makeup and overnight — it is absorbed instantly by the skin. Start using Genova today. In just two weeks your wrinkles will vanish or diminish greatly. Skin becomes more translucent, smoother. You will look gloriously younger! 1.65 oz. $3.50; 4 oz. $5.00.

CARPETS and RUGS
. . . have never been prettier than they are right now and the values have never been greater.
You're probably confused as to which one to buy, because there are literally hundreds of new styles on the market, fibers with unfamiliar names, promises of "miracles" and conflicting claims.
And . . . shopping for carpet is not like shopping for an "everyday" purchase, like food or clothing — it represents a big investment for your home.
How and where to start in shopping for a carpet or rug represents four decisions on your part. Two of them concern appearance — finding the style you like best, the color and texture best suited to your home. The other two concern value — choosing the best quality at the price you can best afford.
At E. Babadurian & Son, with our many years experience in caring for rugs, we feel qualified to assist and advise you in the selection of rugs and carpets for your home. We have the facilities to handle any carpet job, room-size or wall-to-wall.
Both our Oriental rug sales and service and our domestic carpet sales and service are conducted by appointment only. This ensures that you are seen personally when you come to our showroom.

Sawdust for Brains.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Citizens Advisory Committee to the Borough Board of Education has labored and brought forth a mouse. A dead mouse with wool yarn where its guts ought to be and sawdust where its brains ought to be.

The long-awaited report reflects the false assumption that its major effort had to be to appeal to and to appease the S.O.S. Theose forces won the October referendum because much of this town is smug and apathetic.

The defeat of the merger proposal shook a lot of us out of our smugness and we showed, in the February school election, that we could overcome our apathy. We decisively elected to the Board of Education three members pledged to trying to keep Borough and Township together in the schools.

We have a right to expect action toward that end and the majority of the Borough will back that action. The October vote obviously did not truly represent the majority's will.

The "Miller Plan," which at least by default seems to have won the approval of the Citizens Advisory Committee, is an administrative monstrosity which no school superintendent could make work. It would double the work load of the board members and would lead to the citizens' utter confusion on budgets.

It does not assume, indeed would make very difficult, a really coordinated K-12 curriculum, and would probably create problems in hiring good teachers. Most immediately damning is the fact that the Township Board of Education won't support it as a starting point for further talks with the Borough.

The defeat of merger in October by a short-sighted, but aroused and active minority has put the Borough in a box in regard to the future of our public education. Those of us who worked for and voted for enlightened school board members showed where a door might find out of that box. Even seeming acceptance of the Miller Plan will nail up that door again.

BARBARA VAN DE VELDE
R. W. VAN DE VELDE

Tie Votes a Problem.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Disapproving as the Miller plan must be to all those who have looked forward to one excellent school system for Princeton, the fact that it has been approved by the Borough School Board entitles it to close examination.

A superficial glance suggests one difficulty on the purely practical level. The two elementary systems are to be directed by a divided board. Any division of nine ends up with one even-numbered group. While ties are not necessarily a common occurrence in board votes, surely any organization must be capable of dealing with them. This looks like being a tricky piece of enabling legislation.

KATE NICOL
(Mrs. F. H. Nicoll)
475 Prospect Avenue

K-12 Merger Reaffirmed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

After the merger referendum of last October, when it became apparent that Borough opinion was not accurately reflected in the results, Citizens for Borough Schools was formed to support pro-merger candidates. The validity of the CBS position was confirmed by the February 8th election of those candidates.

Now the Citizens Advisory Committee report is in. CBS is delighted that opponents of merger now recognize that "the Borough School District cannot continue as a receiving district only" and that "the best interests of public education in Princeton Borough are intimately related to a formal association with the Township." We applaud the statement that "the Princeton Board of Education should do all in its power to assure a continuing and equitable relationship between Borough and Township in public education."

In the light of the above statements, CBS agrees that the so-called "Miller Plan", proposed in Point 3 should be studied. However, CBS does not believe the "modified" merger suggested in that plan is the one best answer, even if the formidable legal and administrative obstacles can be resolved. CBS does not believe the Miller Plan, in its present form, will prove acceptable either to the Township or to a majority in the Borough.

CBS continues to advocate K-12 merger with the Township as the only fully equitable and fair basis. It urges the Borough School Board to fulfill the mandate given by the February 8th election to work out such a program with its Township counterpart.

CBS believes that thoughtful citizens of both communities will support such a merger.

Unreasonable Solution."

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I have read with dismay the report of the Borough Citizens Advisory Committee which was adopted by the Borough School Board. I should like to point out two insurmountable problems:

1) This is not school merger. The plan really calls for two separate school systems with a joint high school.

2) This places an absurd administrative burden on the school board members and the superintendent. The board members would be asked to serve on two school boards, and the superintendent would be reporting to three boards.

It seems an unreasonable solution to a problem which could be solved so simply with the original school regionalization plan.

This week a check for over $850 was presented to the local unit of Recording for the Blind! This money had been raised at the Princeton High School by the students, led by Beverly Richey, the Chairman of the Projects Committee.

It was the result of a great deal of enthusiastic work on her part, as well as of thoughtful contributions by the students. Recording for the Blind is deeply grateful for this tremendous donation. We are more grateful for our high school students who care enough to work for and give to an organization that helps other students gain an education for themselves.

article (TOWN TOPICS, March 10) on the United Fund agencies and your description of the Nursery as being rated class "C."

There is probably no finer nursery school in the state. That it exists (and not just for Princeton parents) is a credit to the community. I am sure that all the parents who have had the opportunity of using the nursery will join in this protest.

GENEVA BRISCOE BOLDEN
(Mrs. LeRoy Bolden)
94 Birch Avenue

Editor's note. It was the Citizens Survey Committee, not TOWN TOPICS that gave the "C" rating to the Princeton Nursery School. In its report, the Committee said: "The scale used in rating quality unfortunately has a sort of report-card flavor which was not intended. The letters might better be interpreted as meaning . . . 'C: several improvements might be made.'"

The Committee felt that the Nursery would serve the community better if it were open all year, instead of only during the school months, if it were open for a longer period each day and if it had larger quarters.

The Committee commented upon the "dedicated staff" and noted that the Nursery meets all standards set by the New Jersey Department of Education.

While the school is not "just for Princeton parents," it tends to become that way because there is no public transportation to bring children in from surrounding areas and because very few Nursery families can provide transportation of their own.

Bullseye for Rifle Club.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

As a parent of one of the children of the Princeton area who has recently completed a ten-week course in safety and marksmanship with the Princeton Junior Rifle Club, I would like to express my sincere thanks to the partnership that made this possible. These thanks, which I am sure express the appreciation of the 100 other families whose children participated, are directed toward the Citizens Rifle and Pistol Club for its unselfish contribution of instructors,

NOTICE

TOWN TOPICS will make every effort, based on space limitations, to publish up to 500 words of any letter on a subject directly affecting the Princeton area. Because of the volume of news which must be severed at the community level, letters on topics of a national or international nature cannot be considered.

Letters to Mailbox should be typewritten if possible, double-spaced, and must be signed for publication. Those received later than Monday afternoon may be held for use the following week.

range and lecture room, and toward the Princeton Borough and Princeton Township Police Benevolent Association for this program at no charge to any boy or girl from our community meeting the age requirement.

A special debt of gratitude goes to Lt. Richard Steiner and Patrolman David Wilbur of the Princeton Township Police Department for their instruction and organization of the P.B.A. program.

Many thanks to the third and not to be forgotten member of the partnership, the Princeton community, for its financial support of the P.B.A. that helps make this and many other wonderful programs available to all of our children.

Keep the Kids Occupied.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Do young people really need a "place to hang out." Why not stay at home? Are we not encouraging our young people to stay away from home? Perhaps our homes are not the good environment we say they are.

Perhaps they really can get more out of hanging around at the "Tomb." Perhaps young people do not enjoy being out in the fresh air.

Perhaps we are so busy earning a living that we are forgetting how to live. Perhaps we feel our children are safer in a smoke-filled, darkened room with a girl or boy of their choice.

We as parents seems to permit and condone all of these things. We have lost our reverence for a church as an institution.

I believe by encouraging these young people to attend church only to "hang out" in a smoke-filled, darkened room in the cellar is certainly lowering the standards of the church. When we as parents encourage this lack of respect, then what can we expect of these same people 20 years from now?

What can they look up to? Where can they go when they are in trouble? Not the home or the church.

The church is no longer a place of worship for these people. I can't help wondering how many of their parents attend church.

I quote from an article in last week's local paper referring to the attitude of these young people that attend "The Tomb." "The came uninterested in the Church as an institution. They came in the dress and manner of adolescent rebellion. They came quoting Nietzsche to the effect that God is dead and the Curch is His Tomb."

Is that what we have been trying to teach our children. Attend Church for any reason, in any garb, with any attitude, but attend.

One of our over-worked expressions today is "disturbed children." Maybe they are disturbed and rebellious because we as parents are undisturbed. Perhaps we spend too much time forming committees for other peoples problems.

Perhaps we can solve these problems with a little common sense and some strict discipline. Keep the kids on the baseball diamond, in the gym, at home doing a few chores, give them some responsibility and I feel they will become responsible citizens. Keep them off the streets, out of darkened theatres.

ALLEN W. HARTLEY
811 State Road

How to Operate the Pool.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

In view of the membership fees that have been firmly established by the Joint-Recreation Board and the modified daily fees, I feel that the Recreation Board should take under their purview the use of the "Punch-Card System" which should be immediately implimented to insure that all families of the Princeton Community who are of lesser financial circumstances can pay their way and feel they do not have to accept charity, can maintain their dignity with their peers and have full use of the recreational facilities being offered by the Community Recreation Center.

An equitable arrangement can be reached between the Board and the citizenry to accomplish such a plan. Princeton has always been a community of leadership, and this is an internal problem with the exorbitant "Swimming Pool Fees" and "Membership," and should be settled with the populace of Princeton in mind, and not on the consensus of the surrounding communities.

We are desirious to preclude Princeton being presented in the future in any newspaper publication, with "The Haves on the Inside and the Have Nots on the Outside Looking In."

Proposed Plan — Punch-Card System: Maintain a file system (alphabetically), as a child comes to swim and pay his 50 cents daily. Punch out the amount on the card. When the $40 has been paid (and this is what the Board is interested in) through this system, transfer the punched-out card to your main office; then your business manager can mail out to the families a full paid membership card. In this way, this will alleviate any undue financial burden on families within the Princeton Communities (Boro-Twp.) who cannot possibly pay the full membership of $40 at one time.

I am aware this system is lengthy, but lets not "Knock it before we try it" (e.g., for this season). All citizens in Princeton like to pay their own way. All of us wish to hold our heads high with dignity and feel we have and are contributing our share to maintain our own facilities, and still be paid members of the recreational facilities in July 1966.

To alleviate say financial burden on the Commission for additional paid personnel to collect such fees, utilize "Volunteers." Princeton has many such persons in this community, who would gladly give of their time and efforts for children of this town.

Proposed Plan (1967): Perhaps we can utilize the system wherein, parents give to their children $1 per week along with their lunch money for their Swim Tickets. At the end of the summer, the $40 will have been collected before school is out for the summer and all the parents would have to furnish would be new bathing suits, etc. This facility is more for the children than adults, and I wholeheartedly shall support such proposal or something similar.

If such proposals as I have submitted cannot be implemented, on behalf of John-Witherspoon Citizens Committee, I'd welcome any additional comments and/or suggestions the Board or townspeople might have, so that we all can come together in rapport.

MAIL REFORM SOUGHT

By Postmasters' Group. The National Association of Postmasters, which represents more than 90% of the country's postmasters, is supporting legislation to liberalize parcel post classifications. Princeton Postmaster John L. Dilworth has noted that the present restrictions are unnecessarily strict and confusing.

Postmaster Dilworth explained that parcels more than 72 inches in length and girth combined cannot be mailed to cities served by a first class post office. Parcels weighing more than 20 pounds cannot be mailed to first class post offices more than 150 miles away, and those weighing over 40 pounds cannot be mailed to any first class post office.

The Association supports legislation currently before the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee to liberalize the destrictions to 100 inches and 40 pounds, regardless of distance. The change is important to the lagging economy of the parcel post system, which is currently losing more than $100 million annually.

The proposed legislation would yield about $40 million from increased mailing and a rate increase of eight cents per parcel. Without the liberalization of restrictions, a rate increase of 14 cents would be necessary.

The change would also simplify rate schedules. The eight-cent increase would be rounded off to the nearest nickel. The minimun rate is now 20 cents. The eight cent increase would raise it to 37 cents, but it would be rounded off to 35 cents.

ASPIRINS HAVE NO EFFECT on the rampant malady of spring fever, which affects people in different ways. For Sue Denise, it brings on a feeling of laziness; for Skip Rue — nothing! He gives his reason below (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: How does spring fever affect you?

Where asked: Nassau Street.

Miss Nancy Seitz, Cherry Valley Road, secretary, Princeton University: It makes me want to take my shoes off, put my shorts on and ride to the shore with the top down and run in the sand with my bare feet. It makes me want to stop working, to go AWOL. It makes me want to open every door in the house to air it out; it makes me want to ride a horse across open fields and to drink lemonade.

Miss Kaky Killgalloon, 19 Woodland Drive, secretary, Houghton Real Estate: It just makes me carefree and happy and hunting for romance. I feel like running up and down Nassau Street, screaming. It makes me want to gain weight so I can fill out by bathing suit.

Rudolph Weber, Wyckoff, chemist: Lousy, 'cause I'm a skier.

Miss Candace Diggin, 39 Park Place, secretary, Princeton University: Fantastically, especially in this town!

Michael R. Carroll, Trenton, meat manager, Davidson's Market: Not too much. I look forward more to summer. I like fishing and just being out of doors.

Miss Renee Marcellhous, Lawrenceville Road, student, Notre Dame: I think it makes me appreciate the outdoors more — and boys!

Miss Lucille Meece, Princeton Inn, secretary: Well, I get drowsy and start daydreaming.

Miss Willy Coates, 27 Haslet Avenue, homemaker from Holland: Fairly good.

James LaGrutta, N. Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, advertising salesman: I start to wheeze and sneeze sack dresses appear, women don't wear any stockings and the sale of sun glasses goes up.

Rosalie LaGrutta, N. Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, clerk at Hinkson's: It doesn't, I'm just not susceptible, that's all.

Frank MacGillivary, Boston, superintendent for R. L. Polk Company: I'm so busy working it has no effect.

Gail Bernstein, Rider College, senior: Marvelously! It's just great.

Geri Lombardo, Pennington-Lawrenceville Road, student at Notre Dame: Spring makes me feel good because that means summer is coming. I like summer best of all; you can run around in your bare feet.

Mrs. Mary Poirier, 32 Stanley Avenue, housewife: Oh, I like to watch things grow; it makes me want to get out in the garden.

Mrs. Susan McMurray, 28 Witherspoon Street, housewife: Wonderfully! I takewalks all the time, I just have to get out of doors; I can't stay in. I like to take my shoes off.

Bud Ellerman, Long Island, personnel: It makes me get lazy.

Richard Williams, Wheatsheaf Lane, chemist: I'm afraid this isn't very quotable but it makes me want to get outdoors again.

Jeanette Huber, Carter Road, student, Notre Dame: It makes you feel all kind of light and springy. You want to do different and exciting things. It makes me feel adventurous.

Miss Robin Austin, 39 Park Place, clerk at Princeton University: It makes me want to get out and wander around. I have to walk to work anyway, so I get a lot of that.

Skip Rue, Province Line Road, PHS freshman: It never affects me; I never do any work anyway to have it affect me.

Sue Denise, 85 Mason Drive, PHS freshman: It makes me feel lazy — like I don't want to do anything.

Sylvia Kornichuk, Cranbury Road, Princeton Junction, PHS senior: It makes me want to skip the rest of school and go down to the shore, I'm ready for a long vacation.

Linda Silvester, Zill Lane, Princeton Junction, PHS senior: It makes you feel like you want to escape from the normal routine and the monotony of winter. It makes most of us realize summer is near and we won't have to go back to high school.

non-profit organization formed by and for young men.

There will be an orientation meeting for new and prospective members Monday at 8 p.m. at the Griggstown Firehouse. Those wishing further information should call committee chairman Joseph Warren, 359-8438.

LET'S READ

Who, Me? It's fun to read. Really it is. You take this book out of the library and it's about a mysterious haunted house and these two kids hide there to catch a robber, and along about midnight . . .

As everybody knows, a book like that is just about the greatest way to spend a rainy Sunday. Everybody? Well, not everybody, actually.

But a few boys and girls, fifth through eighth grade, are beginning to learn through a special friend they've made at the Princeton Study Center, that maybe stories out of books are not too bad, after all.

The Study Center friend is Mrs. Carol Jacobs who has been spending two evenings a week at the Study Center, Community Park School, to show youngsters what rewards there are in books, not school books, but just books.

Me, Too? Mrs. Jacobs started in January with two or three skeptical children. Now she has about four regulars and sometimes as many as eight, because somebody brought a friend and the friend kept coming back for more.

What do they do? Well, for a start last January, Mrs. Jacobs showed them how to play Scrabble and Scribbage and the kids were very excited by these games.

"Can I come and play, too?" was a frequent question and the invariable answer was, "Of course — everybody's welcome."

"These boys and girls want attention and companionship," Mrs. Jacobs believes, "and that's how we begin."

Let's Act, From games, Mrs. Jacobs progressed to charades. "I asked them to act out, in pantomime, the way they felt when they got a report card. Then we enacted a bank robbery and soon they were making up their own situations and acting them out.

"We read an old folk tale about a stone in the road, a stone ignored by all the indifferent people who passed by until a little boy removed it from the highway and was rewarded by the duke. They acted that one out — it was great fun."

Spelling bees? Yes, indeed. Story-telling? By all means. Story "telling" is much more effective with these skittish young ones than story "reading," Mrs. Jacobs found.

The goal is to get the children to contribute by bringing books to the Center themselves to share with Mrs. Jacobs and the boys and girls.

Soft Sell. Young, quiet in voice and manner and rather shy herself, Mrs. Jacobs is an ideal companion for these youngsters.

A teacher in the New York City school system for two years, Mrs. Jacobs moved to Illinois for a year of teaching — then spent a year in Israel while her husband worked on a programmed learning project. She has a son, five, and a daughter, two.

She arrives at the Study Center around 7:30, after the children have — supposedly — finished their home-work. The Center opens at 7.

It's more fun to play Scribbage or listen to Mrs. Jacobs tell a story than it is to go home, and so they gather around to see what she has this time.

"I feel that I have a better relationship now with the children than I did in the beginning," she says in her soft voice, "and I have a better idea now of what they need and want."

LIVELY CHARGE REDUCED

Loses License One Year. Dr. Robert A. Lively, 45, 20 University Place, an associate professor of history at Princeton University and member of the Borough School Board, appeared before Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. last week to answer a charge of drunken driving.

After a lengthy hearing which lasted from 1:30 to shortly before midnight, Magistrate Tams reduced the charge to careless driving, fined Dr. Lively $30 and revoked his license for one year. The defendant had been charged with drunken driving by Pfl. Stanley Donald on February 13, after he had struck a car waiting for a light on Nassau Street.

Saying the testimony from 11 witnesses had failed to prove drunken driving beyond a reasonable doubt, Magistrate Tams dismissed the charge. At the same time, he told Dr. Lively, "It's clear you were not driving in a normal manner and you showed a great lack of care."

Marvin Blumenthal, Dr. Lively's physician, testified that the defendant suffered from an affliction known as "coarse tremor" which causes symptoms that can be mistaken for drunkenness, particularly when the victim is under stress. Three fellow school board members — Jean A. Buckland, Dr. Harvey Roth-

STUDY CENTER SPECIAL: An extra-curricular kind of "class" at the Princeton Study Center in Community Park School draws more and more eager boys and girls who want to see what Mrs. Carol Jacobs (far left) will suggest for them to do. berg and Thomas Moore—with whom Dr. Lively had spent parts of both the afternoon and evening in two board sessions that day, testified that Dr. Lively had been under considerable stress at the meetings.

Police, including Pfc. John J. Bellow, a witness to the accident, had judged Dr. Lively to be drunk from his appearance, conversation and his performance on a balance and coordination test. They added that Dr. Lively had been uncooperative at the time of his arrest and had refused to take a breath analysis test.

Pointing out that his patient's tremor is heightened by excitement, Dr. Blumenthal said: "I doubt he could touch his finger to his nose as required by the police test, if excited or nervous. I don't believe you could use the usual coordination test on someone with that condition.

Magistrate Tams asked, before passing sentence, if the defendant had ever been convicted of drunken driving, had been fined, or had his license revoked for traffic violations within the past three years. Dr. Lively answered "no" to all three questions.

Dr. Lively was represented by attorney Seymour Montgomery. Lester R. Pierson was the prosecutor.

LICENSES SUSPENDED

For Four Ares Drivers. Four Princeton area drivers have had their licenses suspended by the New Jersey Division of Motor Vehicles.

For speeding, William J. Withop, 17, Pennington-Harbourton Road, Pennington, lost his license for three months. John L. Young, 37, 153 Witherspoon Street and Erno Vandeusen, 45, Half Acre Road, Cranbury, lost their's for 30 days each.

Bruce W. Sandvik, 24, R.D. 1, surrendered his license for one month on points.

FILE MEDICARE FORMS

Before March 31. Citizens 65 years old or older can pick up applications for supplemental Medicare benefits at the stamp windows of Princeton area post offices. Those who reached 64 before this year face a two-year delay if they do not file their forms before March 31.

The supplemental program costs $3 a month and provides doctor bill and other benefits. The Social Security Administration is seeking to contact 3.1 million citizens before the March 31 deadline imposed by the Medicare law.

Sixteen million of those eligible have already replied to the Administration. Only one million of those did not wish to sign up for the benefits.

SPRING PROGRAMS Offered

At YWCA. The YWCA's spring programs offer a wide variety of activities for adults and children. Registration will take place this week and next.

The one-week learn-to-swim program for women meets mornings from 9:30 to 11:30 and starts Monday. The girls' program begins April 11. Women should register before Friday. Girls' registration dates are from April 4 to 8.

Activities for youngsters include tumbling and stunts, music, dance, arts and crafts, grannies and girls' charm and good grooming. There will be a camping weekend for those of fifth grade age and older, April 1-3. The cost will be $15. Those interested should register by Friday.

High School girls can choose from painting and acting workshops, tennis and Red Cross life saving classes, as well as Friday night dances for boys and girls in grades 7 through 9.

Adults are offered classes in languages, gymnastics, judo, tennis, sailing and several other areas. There is also a rifle club and several trips are planned including canoe trips. Registration dates for all these activities are April 4-6.

OFFICERS RESIGN

From Women Voters' League. Mrs. Diance Armington and Mrs. Millicent Taplow have resigned as president and finance chairman of the Lawrence Township League of Women Voters.

Their resignations were made necessary by the election of their husbands, James Armington and Alan Taplow, to the Lawrence Township Economic Development Committee. The voters' league has a policy of non-partisanship for the members of its board of directors.

LIBRARY TO USE BEQUEST

To Buy Furnishings. The furnishings for the new Princeton Public Library, including book shelves and registration desk, will be purchased with the legacy left by Mrs. William L. Ulyat when she died in February of 1964. A plaque in her memory will be placed in the library.

The board of trustees expressed its appreciation for the bequest which will insure that the library will be functional

USE COLONIAL MATERIALS

For Cleaner Renovation. "We wanted a lot of glass, so the building came about by itself," John Janick, owner of the new Craft Cleaners at 227 Nassau Street, reported his desire for large glass areas ruled out conventional colonial styling. His architect, William M. Thompson, solved the problem by using colonial materials and applying them commercially. Mr. Thompson is a well-known designer of Colonial homes for the Princeton construction firm of Hunt and Augustine.

The roof is colonial-type; the walls are white brick and the interior is cedar shingle with the roughened side exposed. During the warm summer months, the wooded cedar shingles between the front walls open up like louvers to provide ventilation.

Site of the striking building is the location formerly occupied by Kase Cleaners. In addition, two old wooden structures were leveled to provide ample off-street parking.

The upper level of the cleaners is used for offices. Downstairs is a call office conveyor which, by dialing a number, will cause the right garment to appear in the front of the store.

Craft Cleaners operates another plant in Princeton Junction. The Princeton branch is operated by Mrs. Caroline Janick. George Sickel is the manager.

DEVELOP THAT TALENT!

At Managerial Level. "Planning the Management Process," a course in developing management talent, will be given on 12 successive Tuesdays starting April 5 by the Administrative Management Society of Trenton.

Robert R. Reichenbach of the Industrial Relations Council, New York, will present the course. Mr. Reichenbach has had considerable experience as a discussion leader of management development programs. He has been industrial relations director for the Envelope Manufacturers' Association and assistant labor editor of "Business Week."

The course will be given on Tuesday from 8 to 10 p.m. on a workshop basis at Opinion Research Corporation, Research Park.

Executives who enroll will be directed to such topics as the economics of planning, the role of planning in management, and the obstacles to effective planning. Three sessions will be devoted to the tools of planning, two to use management activities more effectively.

Inquiries should be addressed to D. W. Clark, American Cyanamid, P. O. Box 400, Princeton.

GRADUATION HELD

For Bankers Association. Twenty-five bankers from New Jersey and nearby states graduated last week from the New Jersey Bankers Association's Data Processing School, held at the Princeton Inn.

Now in the fourth year, the school offers techniques and methods needed to meet the continued growth and changing procedures through data processing. A full-sized NCR computer was installed at the Inn to give students first-hand experience in computer operations. Among the graduates, who spent three sessions requiring five days of study each year, was Harrison Cottingham of the First National Bank.

IRS WILL PROVIDE

New Tax Guide. All employers who file quarterly employment tax returns will automatically receive copies of the revised Employer's Tax Guide containing the new graduated Federal income-tax withholding rates.

The rates will be effective on wage and salary payments made after April 30, 1966. Employers will receive copies of the explanatory booklet before April 1, and the Internal Revenue Service said this week that there is no need to request copies.

IRS has also prepared a one-page instruction sheet which includes a new W-4 form for distribution to employees. Employers who have fewer than 256 employees will automatically receive copies. Firms with more than 256 employees should mail their requests for the required number of Document 5482 to: Tax Forms, P. O. Box 126, Newark, N. J. 07101.

Mrs. Ulyat also established the Evelyn Woods Ulyat Scholarship Fund at Princeton University. She made bequests to the Berkshire Industrial Farm, the Maine Sea Coast Mission, Boy's Town and the Caney Creek Community Center in Kentucky.

The library has also announced a new selection of books for high school students considering summer jobs and college. Among the titles available are "Camp Programs for High School Students: Summer 1966," "National Parks' Summer Jobs," "Lovejoy's College Guide" and "Comparative Guide to American Colleges."

These books and others are available in the reference department. The library's hours are 9:30 to 9, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays; and 9:30 to 6, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturdays.

WIVES PLAN DANCE

With Carousel Theme. A carousel in the park will be the theme of the annual Doctors' Wives Dance on April 30 at the Princeton Day School. The Myer Davis orchestra will provide the music.

The dance benefits the medical library of Princeton Hospital. Last year, the affair raised $2,500. Mrs. William F. Besser is chairman of the dance and Mrs. Peter DeMauro co- chairman.

Members of the dance committee include Mrs. Charles B. Rice and Mrs. William J. Peter, decorations; Mrs. Joel J. Felsher, invitations, and Mrs. Thomas L. Evans, treasurer.

CEREMONIES PLANNED

For Franklin Swim Club. Ground breaking ceremonies for the construction of the Ben Franklin Swim Club will take place at the site on the corner of Lewisville and Franklin Corner roads Sunday. Donald Morgan, president of the club, has announced that the club has reached 50% of its membership goal.

Lawrence Township's attorney Paul Levy has filed a reply to the suit brought by residents of Franklin Corner Road seeking to prevent construction of the pool. He has moved for dismissal of the suit on the grounds that the township took proper consideration in granting the zoning variance.

A decision is expected by the end of March. The club's attorney has advised the trustees to proceed with construction.

How To Survive

A great number of fire alarms each winter are caused by the homeowner's casual attitude toward his heating equipment. Few of us are aware, for instance, that just the heat from a steam radiator can ignite some plastics and celluloids found in combs, buttons, film, among other things. Not all of us bother to keep highly flammable oils, waxes, and paints, or rags soaked in these liquids, clear of furnaces and heating areas. How many of us face the fact that furnaces, chimneys and flues must be inspected and cleaned regularly, preferably every year? We all should admit that searching for escaped gas in labor for a leak detector, not a nose. Your best interests are always our concern. Kemmler Buick-Pontiac, Route 206 Princeton, N. J. across from the airport. 921-2222.

BASE HITS FOR SALE?

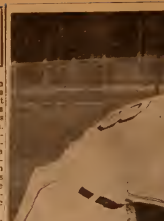
Tigers in the Market. Even a veteran pitching staff and a reasonably tight defense won't make a real winner out of a baseball team that rarely hits when a safe blow means a run. Last spring, Princeton completed its best season on the diamond it over a decade with a 21-8 record but inability to convert base runners into tallies m the scoreboard kept the Tigers from going to Omaha for the NCAA finals and from finish ing better than third in the Eastern League.

As far as hitting goes this year, it may well be that things will get worse before they get better. The only two players to top .300 last spring, Captain Jack Singer and Wally Uhle, have graduated. Coach Eddie Donovan doesn't even see a mirage on the horizon indicating that they will be replaced by either holdover veterans or upcoming sophmores.

He will have working for him, a stronger, deeper pitching staff than Princeton has known since it last won an Eastern League title a baker's dozen years ago. Between them, righthander Graham Marcott (7-4) and southpaw Tom Scott (9-3) won 16 of the 21 games that marked the Tigers' surprising upsurge last spring. Both are on hand again, as is senior John Redpath who accounted for four of the other five victories a year ago.

In pitching part or all of 20 games and taking part in 11 decisions, Marcott compiled a glittering 1.37 earned run average—a performance clearly indicative of ability to do better than a 7-4 mark with decent support at the plate. Scott's ERA was a highly satisfactory 2.07, while John Redpath's mark for 47 innings and a 4-1 record was a minute 0.96.

Behind them will be several sophomores, the pick among among them lefthander Tom Kennedy. If Kennedy lives up to his apparent potential, Princeton will have four pitchers capable of winning with an adequate defense and any reasonable bit of support at the plate. The latter will remain a season-long question-mark, and as was the case last year, when five of the eight games lost were by either one or two runs, some of the close ones will get away.



HIS EARNED RUN AVERAGE IS HARD TO SEE: Graham Marcott compiled a fine 1.37 ERA last spring as a sophomore at Princeton. Tigers' hopes for another good season depend largely on unusual pitching strength.

Biggest defensive asset will be strength down the middle. To go with the dependable pitching corps is catcher Tom Peppler, a veteran as a junior and a player who needs only to add 50 or 60 points to his batting average to rank as a real standout.

Landeck at Short. Ron Landeck, the record-breaking tailback on last fall's football team, will play short, teaming with Dan Adams, a holdover at second base. Landeck plays summer ball and if anyone can raise the team batting average, he may be the best bet.

At the far end of the "strength down the middle" is the veteran Frank Biondi, who is back for his third year in centerfield. The pitchers, Peppier as catcher, the Landeck-Adams keystone combination and Biondi in center are as strong a combination as Princeton has had since the early '50's.

A pair of sophomores have the inside track at first and third, where Pete Riley and Wally Uhle played for three seasons. Bob Weber, a football player, is a step ahead of Chip Sahler for the job at first, while Mike Paulaitis is likely to get the job at the hot corner. Flanking Biondi in center will be a pair of outfielders chosen from among Phil DeSantis, Joe Laongo, Lyan Moore and Bart Farr.

The Tigers leave for Winter Park, Fla., this weekend, heading for six straight games next Monday through Saturday in the Rollins College Tournament, which they won last year. Entries in addition to the host team are Maine and Rochester, with Princeton's pitching depth making it the favorite in the game-a-day battling.

Also working for the Orange and Black has been the unusually mild March weather. Whereas the Tigers had not been outside once before they went south a year ago, they have had almost two weeks of outdoor practice this month in temperatures that have ranged pleasantly upward from 50 degrees.

FOUR HOME CREW RACES

All Scheduled for April. Devotees of regatta-watching on the banks of Carnegie will have three weekends this spring when they can watch the crews go by, but the home season will have ended before the really warm weather begins. All of the regattas here are set for April, with the biggest the program on the 23rd which will see Princeton row Penn and Columbia for Childs Cup and the Cornell and Princeton lightweights also in action.

The season will open here on April 9 against Rutgers. The only other appearance of the heavyweight oarsmen at home will be on the 23d.

Also on the schedule are a race against Navy at Annapolis on April 16; the Compton Cup regatta against Harvard and M.I.T. at Cambridge on April 30; the Carnegie Cup race against Yale and Cornell at Ithaca on May 7. The sprint championships will be staged at Worchester, Mass., on May 14 and the national regatta at Syracuse on June 18.

CUP WINNER: Howard McMorris II was awarded the Blackwell Cup at the conclusion of the hockey season for his "play, sportsmanship and influence." A Bayard Lane resident, he is a graduate of Deerfield and Princeton Country Day School.

In addition to the meeting with Cornell on April 23, the 150-lb. crew will entertain Penn and Georgetown here the following Saturday. Findley Melnikhn will begin his career as coach of the lightweight oarsmen.

GLADMAN NAMED CAPTAIN

Cup to McMorris. Gordon Gladman of Cooksville, Ont., has been elected captain of the Princeton hockey team for 1966-67. A forward who showed steady progress this winter, he ran into academic difficulties in February and was ineligible for the remainder of his junior year but is expected to top that hurdle by the time the current term ends in June.

The Blackwell Cup, for qualities of sportsmanship, ability and exemplary conduct on ice, went to Mac McMorris, a three-year letterman on defense. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard McMorris of 94 Bayard Lane.

Gladman was one of 11 hockey players from Princeton who defeated the Wissahickon Hockey Club Saturday in Chestnut Hill, Pa., 6 to 3. Other varsity players in action were Mike and Randy Spence, Steve Cook, Mike Wiggins and Regan Kerney.

With Kerney in the goal, the Spence brothers started at defense and the three Cook brothers (Pick, Johnny and Steve) formed the line. Pete Cook, Mike Wiggins and Gladman were the Princetonians' other line, while the alternating defensive pair were Harry Rulon-Miller and Charlie Stuart, former captains at Princeton and Dartmouth.

LACROSSE TO START

At Maryland Saturday. Faced with the likelihood that it will again lose its first four games, Princeton's lacrosse team heads for College Park, Md., Saturday to open its 1966 season. The Terrapins of Maryland will provide the opposition, with Johns Hopkins, Navy and Army following on successive Saturdays before the Ivy League season begins.

It was in 1963 that the Tigers last trimmed Maryland, while the Orange and Black has not defeated the other three in the present decade. Johns Hopkins and Army will be played here, with Princeton facing Navy. Ferris Thomsen's choice as the nation's top team, at Annapolis.

A need to rely heavily on sophomore strength leads Thomsen to express doubt that the Tigers will continue their domination of the Ivy League. He lists Dartmouth, co-champion with Princeton in 1965, and Cornell as the strongest teams in the race, with Yale and his own team "outside bets."

Princeton is shaping up with considerable strength at midfield, where Marty Eichelberger, a top defensive back in football, and Pepper Pettit, a Princeton resident, head a group of returning veterans. John Baker, a defenseman in hockey, continues that role in lacrosse, but this position has been hard hit by the graduation of Den Roth and Don MacKay.

Bob Mueller, a Princeton Country Day School alumnus, is being counted on to bolster the attack, but may be slowed by chronic knee injury. In addition to Pettit and Mueller, other residents of this area on the squad are Dick Reynolds of Princeton and John Brinkerhoff of Belle Mead. Reynolds is a graduate of Andover, while Brinkerhoff played lacrosse at Hill.

The Tigers lost to the Philadelphia Lacrosse Club Saturday, 6 to 4, in a scrimmage on Finney Field, although they held a 4-3 lead with less than a period to go. Reynolds, substituting for Graeme Flanders in the goal, gave an eye-catching performance until he was hit in the eye and forced to retire.

REGISTER NOW

For Spring Tennis Classes. Registrations are now being accepted by the Princeton Community Tennis Program for its spring tennis classes which will run 10 weeks through June 24. Classes will start on Saturday.

There will be instructional classes for boys beginning in the third grade through high school and for girls, fourth grade through high school. Students will be divided into groups according to age and ability. A wide variety of times and court locations are available.

Further information and a complete schedule may be obtained by calling Mrs. James Fitzpatrick at 924-2190. A full summer program is also planned, starting June 27.

The following staff has been announced by Mrs. Lewis Kraft, director of the program. Norman Van Arsdalen, director of physical education of Princeton Township schools; William Humes, tennis coach at Princeton High School; John Conroy, tennis coach at Princeton University; Thomas Sutherland, former varsity player and assistant coach, U. S. Naval Academy; Jerry Conti, co-captain, Rider tennis team, 1965-66; and Bayard Jordan, Princeton professional.

Assisting will be students from Princeton University, Rider College, Trenton State Teachers College and Princeton High School. Adult tournament players in the Princeton area have also volunteered to help with the YWCA class for women.

The Community Tennis Program will work closely with the newly-formed Princeton Community Tennis Committee, headed by Alden Dunham, director of admissions at Princeton University. The latter's primary function is program planning.

ZOLL STARTS 10th YEAR

As PHS Baseball Coach, For Harry Zoll, Princeton High baseball coach, 1966 marks the start of his tenth year. The highwater mark of that tenure was reached six years ago when Zoll guided the Little Tigers all the way to the Central Jersey Group 3 championship.

That was a glory year for PHS on the diamond. The names still come easily: Jack Hawkins, Bruce Sandvik, Jack Lackey. "That was my top team; I'll never forget it," said Zoll, in the same vein a Yankee fan speaks of the 1927 team.

Since then, the Little Tiger have had their nose pressed to the window. Talking to Zoll one gets the impression that after six years he would once again like to spreadeagle the opposition.

Is 1966 the year? Unless a lot of question marks become solid pluses, it doesn't appear likely. There are too many gaps, too much inexperience. One goal within reach however, would be a .500 season which in itself would be a big improvement over last year's 3-13 record.

Little To Build On. Zoll inherited little on which to build a championship team. Chief assets are Billy McQuade and the pitching staff. McQuade, starting his third year as a varsity player, co-captain of the team and a fixture at shortstop. He is the only fixture.

The pitching staff, described as "pretty fair" by Zoll, consists of seniors Chris Fisher and Joe Harding; Tom Wood, a junior, and Tom Yoder, a sophomore and three of two elevated from the freshmen squad.

Since Zoll believes pitching can count for as much as 80 percent in high school competition, a closer look at his mound staff is in order. Fisher, the only southpaw, is the most polished. The workhorse of the team last year, he won only one but was the repeated victim of poor support. A good year from Fisher would boost PHS from the doldrums.

Harding has tremendous strength but is short on control and staying power. He is effective for short stints but an added year may translate into much better control.

Potentially, Wood, could win a half-dozen games. He finished strong last year, winning two games back-to-back, one a two-hitter. Of Princeton's five triumphs, he claimed three.

Yoder — remember the name because PHS sports devotees are going to be hearing it a lot more for the next two years — played shortstop and pitched as a freshman. He loves to play ball and Zoll said he hopes he can work him in as a pitcher.

"I'd like to see them come along this year," said Zoll. "We've got pitching and with a little hitting . . ."

Wanted: Some Hitters. When Zoll remarked "We need some hitters, but where can I get them," he put his finger on one of the shortcomings of last year and possibly this year as well.

Statistics at the plate in 1965 were almost grisly: a team batting average of .178; 48 runs scored for an average of less than three a game, while yielding 74, only 41 of which were earned; three one-run defeats and six two-run setbacks.

Zoll and the Little Tigers were caught short when the expected power from such veterans as Paul Walstad, Ken Ward, Paul Barrett and Lou Balestrieri failed to materialize. Outfielder Gil Martin led the team with a .277 average.

In one respect, the team is far ahead of last year's. The weather has been ideal. In fact, the team has been outdoors from the first day of practice "I don't remember when we've been able to get this much in before the start of the season," observed Zoll.

After one week, with the exception of shortstop, every position remains open. Curt Michell, a good hitting junior, will probably return to centerfield where he played last spring. "He should come into his own this year," said Zoll. Tom Wood will hold down first base when not on the mound.

Yoder and Jack Van Zandt, the latter a senior elevated from the junior varsity, are squaring off at second base, as are Tim Haigh and Rich Volz at third base. Don Juberg seems set to start in the outfield. He is a senior.

Behind the plate there is Lou Balestrieri. Lou, a fullback for two years, has strength to spare. He was outstanding as a sophmore but fell off somewhat as a junior. He is expected to regain his earlier form.

Ryan a Comer. Behind Lou is Nick Ryan, who with Yoder, is the only sophmore on the squad. "I'll try him at any position," said Zoll, adding: "It's the old story of a boy who likes to play ball so much he'll play anywhere."

Predictions? "It's foolish," Zoll remarked, to predict unless you're strong in at least two of the three main areas of pitching, hitting and fielding.

I only predicted once and we went all the way.

"If a team is strong in one area, it will win a few; if it's strong in two, it should do well; if strong in all three, it has it made."

At this juncture and using Zolt's guide, PHS would appear to be fairly strong in pitching. As for the other two, only time will tell. The answers start coming April 1 when PHS will open at home against Cathedral.

TEAM HAS MANPOWER

But Track Quality Unknown. Close to 100 boys answered the call for track practice at Princeton High School this spring. "We've more to work with than in other years," said Coach Jerry Groninger, "but only time will tell if we have any quality."

Groninger is knee-deep in aspiring but untested performers. There are 45 freshmen alone. "We'll just have to wait to see if any of these boys can come along," he said. "A couple of them look pretty fair."

Groninger and his staff will be forced to look long and hard at the underclassmen because graduation claimed huge chunks of last year's squad — nine of the finest in the school's history. Among its accomplishments were 11 wins in 12 duel meets, including its first win ever over New Brunswick, and a second-place finish in the Group 4 Central Jersey Southern Division meet.

Gone are such outstanding point-getters as Bill Aiken, Roger Madden, Jay Gallagher, Carl Giese, Roger Conover, Andy Kulley, Gallagher, Kulley and Aiken all set new PHS records last spring.

Heading the list of returning veterans will be Bart Bennett, top flight hurdler, and Carl DeCalvacante, a 6-3, 245-lb. musclemen whose speciality is the shot and discus. Overall, Groninger said the team would probably be strongest in the javelin.

In that one event, PHS has four boys who are standouts — Keith Conover, Mark Dannenhauer, Dan Tindall and Craig Beachell. "All should do better than 175 feet," commented Groninger.

Boccanfuso Sidelined. Hopes of duplicating 1965's success faded considerably with the loss of Vince Boccanfuso, co-captain of the team. Vince was probably the leading scorer for the Little Tigers last season, competing in the 100 and 220 dashes, the broad jump and the high jump. His forte was the sprints.

Vinnie is recovering from a knee operation which stemmed from a mishap in the season's last football game. "It will be mid-season before he regains his form," said Groninger. "That hurt us. That is the worst blow we've had."

Will the team do as well as last year? "No, we lost too many. We have too many question marks," said Groninger.

One plus sign that Groninger sees will be the spinoff of the winter track team, coached by Dan McGuire. They compiled only a fair record, Groninger explained, but McGuire did a lot of experimenting. "It gave the boys a lot of experience and that's what we need."

Again assisting Groninger will be Dick Wood, who will coach the jumping events and Jim Murray, who will be in charge of the sprints and the freshmen. Groninger concentrates on teaching the weight and field events.

DOGS GRADUATE

At Winter Classes End. A Yorkshire Terrier owned by Mrs. John Morowitz, 27 Hastings Road, Kendall Park, topped the beginners' class as the Princeton Dog Training Club held its winter graduation exercises in the Princeton Day School gymnasium. The winner's point total was 198.

Runner-up was a Scottie owned by Mrs. Susan Licht, 91 Einstein Drive, with 196 points, while Mrs. J. A. Stoddard, 20 Nassau Road, Kendall Park, and her Great Dane placed fourth with 188.

In the intermediate group, Lee Krulisch of Neshanic and her German Shepard won with 195½, followed by Herbert Hobler, 295 Mercer Road, and his Golden Retriever with 192½. In third place was Julie Schley, 1000 Kingston Road, with a Collie who scored 190 points, while Jane Gamsen and her Setter were fourth with 189 points.

MIDGET BASEBALL SET

To Begin 17th Year. Plans are being made for the 17th season of the Midget Baseball League, which operates under YMCA sponsorship.

Contracts have been mailed to all boys who played last year and who are still eligible for 1966. Registration should be made as soon as possible by new boys 10 to 12 years old. The deadline at the YMCA office on Avalon Place is Thursday, March 31.

BOWLING NOTES

Decker Takes Lead. Grover Lumber, leader in the Nassau League last week, was replaced by Decker's Dairy now on top by two wins, 42-40. Grover dropped into a second-place tie with Cifelli Electric, while Brophy's, tied for second last week, slipped to third.

Bob Cifelli led all individual efforts with a 221. Following in line were Mike Kopliner, 218; Al Spencer, 215; and Ed Hughes, 213. Nick Seuleratti and Ed Duncan Sr. each had 208.

There were six games over 200 rolled in the Three-Men Classic division, with a 225 by Guido Zinetti the highest. Bud Fowler (218) Dick Fowler (211) and Mike Pinelli (207) trailed.

Decker's Dairy leads in this league, too, 58½ to 51 over Johnson Electric. Turney Motors with 44½ wins is third.

Nassau Conover widened its margin to six wins over Claridge Liquor and Young Ages, tied for second in the Princeton Business Women's League. Eight wins behind with 20 each are MacKenzie Realty and Tween Age.

Lillian Burroughs leveled the most pins on games of 199-175—538. She was followed by Loretta Sculer (181-174, — 509) and Marilyn Silvester (182-173—505). Single game highs of 178, 174, 171 were fashioned by Helen Tamasi, Anne Pfister and Mailie Pipero. The 3-7-10 and 4-5-7 splits were converted respectively by Peg Ranallo and Toni Arcamone.

Top scores in the Blue Angels Hi-Y League were Rich Volz' 178, Brandon Stecchini's 163 and Tom Wood's 161. League standings find the Wildcats comfortably in front with 26 wins, six ahead of the Tigers. Wildcats and Triple C which are knotted for second place.

In the Tri-County Firemen's League, Mercer No. 3 pulled in front by another notch and now leads second-place Princeton No. 1, 49-44. Hook & Ladder "L" and Kingston have 38 and 38 wins.

There were two fine series recorded: a 188-203-213—602 by Bill Duvall and a 192-202-187—581 by Frank Stofko. High single games: Joe Cavanaugh's 236; Bucky Cupples's 223; and Bob Richardson's 213.

Most consistently fine bowler at the Princeton Recreation Lane last week was Jim Kahny. He worked the pins for a 203-213-225—641 series. Frank Maddalon posted a 582 and Skip Pinelli a 588. Ed Hughes had a 217 and Jack Petrone a 215.

There was no change among the top three in the standings. It now reads Ivy Inn, 40 wins; Reowick's, 38; and Nassau Del, 34. Balestrieri is fourth with 32.

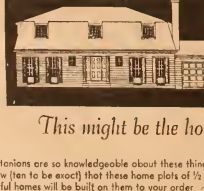
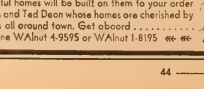
This is the site





This might be the house

Since Princetonians are so knowledgeable about these things, it will be good news to a fortunate few (ten to be exact) that these home plots of ½ acre or more are now available. Beautiful homes will be built on them to your order by Ed Sonds and Ted Deon whose homes are cherished by their owners all around town. Get aboard . . . . . .

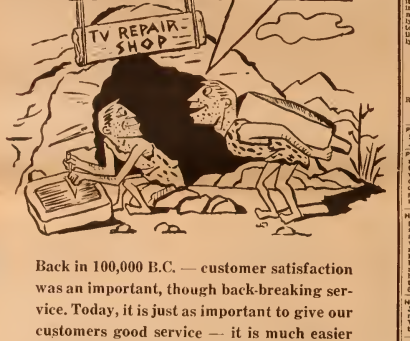
"Couldn't fix it on-the-spot, Frank, so I left one of our sets with them until this one is repaired."*



Back in 100,000 B.C. — customer satisfaction was an important, though back-breaking service. Today, it is just as important to give our customers good service — it is much easier and faster with 3 service trucks available, equipped with radio communications.

Call 921-8500 before 10 A.M. for SAME DAY SERVICE

*Don't forget — if we can't fix your set on-the-spot, and it is your ONLY TV set, we will leave a set for your use, free of charge, until the repaired set is returned. If all our sets are on loan, please bear with us!

10 reasons why you should buy a home in Wynnewood at Cranbury:

- Wynnewood at Cranbury is a custom-crafted community of thirty lovely homes, set against a backdrop of fine old trees.
- Cranbury is one of New Jersey's few remaining "small-town" towns . . . a real village atmosphere!
- Cranbury is 6 miles from Princeton, 50 minutes from mid-town Manhattan.
- All lots are a MINIMUM of one full acre.
- Fine school system —including all-new Regional High School.
- Elegance of design is overwhelming!
- Solidity of construction is paramount!
- Every home has the most modern of kitchens with the new Caloric "75" double-oven range and dishwater included.
- All utilities; curbs, walks, etc. are in and paid for!
- Gracious covered portico and full 2-car garages.

There are really hundreds of reasons why you should own a Wynnewood at Cranbury home! See for yourself.

Prices range from $34,900 to $40,000

IN THE BOROUGH . . . charming small Colonial, in immaculate condition. Gleaming with fresh paint, plus central air-conditioning, wall-to-wall carpeting, outdoor terrace and paneled recreation room, this lovely home has 3 bedrooms, and the newly renovated kitchen has dishwasher, disposal and refrigerator. Washing machine and dryer in the basement. An unusual opportunity to get an utterly delightful home that is ideal for a small family $32,000

FOUR BEDROOMS . . . in an area with many lovely shade trees, the house has living room with fireplace, dining room, modern kitchen and 2 bathrooms. Freshly painted indoors, with wall-to-wall rugs that are really as new as they look. Large library on the lower level. Seclusion for outdoor entertaining is provided by luxuriant shrubbery and a high fence. Refrigerator included. Built by Pearson, with real plaster walls and superior craftsmanship, here is an excellent value. $39,900

SMALL ESTATE . . . on historic Mercer Road, in beautiful Lawrenceville, this charming Cape Cod is hidden behind its hedges and its fine foliage. Approximately 2½ acres of land, with many shade trees and about half the lawn enclosed by a new fence of cedar pickets. Indoors there is a huge, pine-paneled living room with fireplace, library with fireplace, dining room, modern kitchen and powder room. Upstairs, 3 bedrooms and bath. New, pine-paneled study in basement. House freshly painted outdoors with two coats of best grade acrylic paint. Large screened porch opening into the garden. (Sole Agent) $47,500

RENTAL . . . guest house on small estate right in the Township, within walking distance of schools. Big living room with fireplace, dining room. 4 bedrooms, 3 baths. $300

EDGERSTOUNE . . . a lovely home. Colonial in appearance, with yellow clapboards and white trim. Built on a knoll, surrounded by broad lawns, there's a fenced yard for the children to play in. Lower level: family room with powder room nearby and an exit to the garden, and a laundry room. Main level: Living room with fireplace, dining room with window walls and draw draperies, all-electric kitchen with breakfast space. Upper Level: 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, excellent closets. In addition, there is a large attic which can be a children's playroom. (Sole Agent) $55,000

RIVERSIDE . . . here is a fine big house with 5 bedrooms, 2 baths and powder room. Central air-conditioning. Located in a beautiful wooded area close to school, yet free of through traffic. The house is traditionally Colonial in architecture, with grey shingles and white shutters. First floor: large living room, dining room, family room, kitchen and powder room. Second floor: 5 bedrooms, 2 baths. The backyard is lovely — all fenced in, with a nice concrete terrace and beautiful shrubs and trees. (Sole Agent) $55,000

RENTAL . . . Statley home with an acre for the children to play on. 6 bedrooms, 4 baths. In the country, about seven minutes from Princeton. $400
